INTRODUCTION TO PHILLIPS THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Mission

Phillips Theological Seminary is an accredited institution of higher education, affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), whose purpose is to prepare women and men for varied Christian ministries in church and society. One single aim dominates its educational programs: to help the church make the Christian faith effective in human life and society through a competent, educated ministry.

The seminary is a center of the church's intellectual life and, as such, shares responsibility for the integrity, spiritual power, and prophetic service of the church. Its programs are designed to develop a ministry called to Christian discipleship, grounded in scripture and tradition, skilled in personal and social relations, and dedicated to the church's mission in the contemporary world. The seminary is ecumenical in its approach to theological education and in the composition of both faculty and student body.

A creative community of learning, the seminary also draws students and faculty together in common worship and mission as together its members seek to witness to the gospel of Jesus Christ. Three core values undergird the seminary’s mission, programs, and ethos:

- rooted in the ecumenical life of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ);
- centered on the spiritual formation of effective Christian leaders;
- committed to student-oriented academic excellence.

The seminary offers a Certificate in Graduate Theological Studies (18 semester-hours), with multiple thematic options, and three master’s degrees, with courses online and on campus:

- Master of Arts in Ministry and Culture (MAMC): 48 semester-hours
- Master of Theological Studies (MTS): 48 semester-hours
- Master of Divinity (MDiv): 87 semester-hours

In addition, the seminary offers a 32 semester-hour Doctor of Ministry (DMin) degree with four professional specializations: Pastoral Leadership in Care and Counseling, Pastoral Leadership in Homiletics, Pastoral Leadership in Church and Society, and Pastoral Leadership in Spiritual Formation.

Women and men of all theological backgrounds who are academically qualified for admission are sought and welcomed for study at Phillips Theological Seminary.

Goals

Phillips Theological Seminary strives to:

1. achieve excellence in the graduate theological education of women and men for positions of leadership in the church’s ministry, including lay leaders, licensed ministers, and ordained clergy;
Introduction

2. recruit, retain, and nurture a faculty which has the scholarship, instructional skills, and commitment to the church’s ministry which are necessary to achieve excellence in theological education;
3. recruit, retain, and nurture students who have an aptitude for theological study and show promise of becoming transformative leaders in church and society;
4. provide courses of study that assure students an opportunity to develop and integrate basic theological understanding and ministerial skills;
5. create a genuine community of scholarship and faith cultivating critical intelligence and creative imagination, challenging and sustaining individuals in their spiritual growth, and regularly practicing common worship;
6. serve the church by sustaining a dialogue concerning the mission of the church in the world, by shaping theological education in the service of that mission, and by offering special programs that provide opportunities for educational, personal, and spiritual development of lay and ministerial leaders;
7. serve the world by sustaining a dialogue regarding understandings of human nature and destiny, disciplines and methodologies of human studies, and issues of peace and justice;
8. develop and obtain sufficient financial resources to adequately fund the total seminary program;
9. maintain physical facilities and resources that enhance the pursuit of excellence in theological education;
10. nurture and sustain mutually supportive relationships with church and non-church institutions which contribute to the fulfillment of the seminary’s mission.

Perspective on Theological Education

Phillips Theological Seminary has a longstanding commitment to provide theological studies that address the church’s need for an educated ministry. The following statements represent the perspective on theological education that shape the seminary’s programs of study:

1. The church is called into being by God to witness in word and deed to the gospel of Jesus Christ for the benefit of the world.
2. The seminary exists fundamentally to serve the church and its witness. The seminary’s distinctive purpose is educating women and men for varied Christian ministries in church and society. Churches, however, retain the exclusive right and responsibility to determine the appropriate qualifications for ordained and licensed ministry, to assess the fitness for ministry of individual candidates, and to credential persons for ministerial leadership.
3. The primary but not exclusive focus of the seminary's work is the leadership needs of individual congregations.
4. Adequate church leadership must be grounded in the study of the biblical witness and the historical traditions of the church. Study must also appropriate a critical theological perspective in order that the church may present a truthful and luminous witness to the world.
5. Adequate church leadership also requires balancing theological reflection relating Gospel and world with a practical understanding and competence relating self and ministerial practice.
6. The seminary affirms the interdependence of theological reflection and practical ministry. Accordingly, it affirms the importance of contextual education and supervised ministry for those students enrolled in professional degree programs.
7. The primary fields of study in the seminary are biblical studies, historical studies, theology and ethics, Christianity and culture, practical theology, and cross-disciplinary studies.
8. The primary foci in practical theology are preaching, Christian education, church administration and leadership development, pastoral care and counseling, and worship.
9. The curriculum presupposes the baccalaureate degree as a sign of previous study and encounter with human culture. The curriculum provides opportunities for extending the study of culture and joining the conversation between theological and non-theological disciplines, methodologies, and perspectives.
10. The faculty and curriculum properly manifest individual and specialized fields of competence, while the entire faculty and curriculum are oriented toward the goal of educating students for a variety of ministries in church and society.

11. Given the complexity of processes involved in theological education, multiple teaching methods and class formats are available and used. No one method or format is sufficient for the entire curriculum.

12. The seminary community can properly sustain its pursuit of theological education only insofar as its common life regularly involves opportunities for personal encounters, spirited dialogue, corporate activities, and worship.

Location

Phillips Theological Seminary is located in Tulsa, a metropolitan area of about 700,000 people in northeastern Oklahoma. The seminary moved into new campus facilities at 901 North Mingo Road, near the Tulsa International Airport and only a few miles from The University of Tulsa campus, in the summer of 2003.

History

Phillips Theological Seminary began as part of Phillips University, established in 1907 as a liberal arts college and graduate school affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). In its early years, the seminary was known as the College of the Bible of Phillips University. As a division of the university, it was first accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools in 1919.

In 1952, when first accredited as a graduate school by the Association of Theological Schools, the seminary became known as The Graduate Seminary of Phillips University.

In 1986, the seminary expanded its program by opening a second campus in Tulsa, Oklahoma, utilizing facilities at The University of Tulsa.

In 1987, The Graduate Seminary separated from Phillips University and was incorporated as a freestanding institution under the name Phillips Graduate Seminary. In 1995, the trustees changed the seminary’s name to Phillips Theological Seminary.

In November 1996, a Board of Trustees taskforce recommended consolidation to one campus with strategically located off-campus course offerings. The Board approved the recommendation and initiated a process to evaluate site options.

In May 1997, the Board of Trustees approved a plan to establish the school’s campus in Tulsa. Since the closure of Phillips University in 1999, PTS proudly carries on the Phillips legacy.

In 2002, the seminary took possession of its new campus in Tulsa, a gift from the QuikTrip Corporation, and extensive renovations began.

In the fall of 2003, the seminary’s new campus facilities were dedicated, followed by the dedication in the spring of 2004 of its meditation gardens and labyrinth.

In the 2007-2008 academic year, Phillips Theological Seminary celebrated the centennial of its founding.

In June 2009, following a comprehensive self-study and institutional review, the seminary was reaccredited without notations for the ten-year period, 2009-2019.
In the fall of 2009, with approval from its accrediting associations, the seminary initiated a comprehensive online education program.

The Faculty

A school's primary resource is its faculty. The regular faculty of Phillips Theological Seminary currently consists of 16 highly educated and dedicated scholars. Each is devoted to the church and its mission, engaged with the critical issues of the day, and committed to the goals of graduate professional theological education.
Teaching is the heart of the mission of the PTS faculty. Each faculty member is a skilled instructor and maintains regular office hours in order to be available to students. Each is a publishing scholar who seeks to contribute to the ongoing dialogue concerning the demands of Christian discipleship in our time.

Members of the faculty graduated from a number of different highly respected graduate schools and represent several different denominations. The ecumenical ethos at PTS means that students have the opportunity to explore, in a spirit of Christian unity, multiple understandings of Christian faith and life.

Each faculty member’s professional time includes service to the academy and to the church. Each member is active in national and international professional societies related to his or her areas of academic specialization. They regularly hold leadership positions in professional academic organizations. The seminary maintains a program of research sabbaticals for professors, enabling them to engage in active, continuing research and writing. Several members of the faculty have lived, studied, and taught abroad.

Faculty members are active in their own congregations and denominations, often preach at nearby churches, take part in numerous district and regional activities (both denominational and ecumenical), serve on national boards, and provide leadership in conferences of the World Council of Churches and international and regional ecumenical and interfaith organizations. Most are ordained and have pastoral experience in congregational ministries. A number are also married to clergypersons serving in the Tulsa area.

To strengthen the academic program of ministerial education by further involvement with the life and mission of the church, the seminary’s teaching faculty includes three affiliate members and a number of adjunct instructors, visiting scholars, and ministerial mentors.

The Library

Phillips Theological Seminary Library’s collection provides holdings of approximately 90,000 items making it the largest graduate theological library in the region extending from Dallas to Kansas City and St. Louis to Denver. It serves as an important resource for theological students, religious professionals, and researchers in the area. The library’s collection reflects the ecumenical and non-sectarian mission of the seminary, and includes monographs, periodicals, electronic resources, audio/visual material, archival resources for the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), and items of historical interest. Through a cooperative agreement seminary students and faculty have full access to the library resources at the University of Tulsa.

PTS students, faculty and special borrowers have full access to the collection and services of the library. The catalog and important electronic resources are available through the library’s website at www.ptstulsa.edu/library.asp. Individuals not affiliated with the seminary may contact the library at (918) 270-6437 for further information on accessing the collection. The library is served by a staff of enthusiastic professional and paraprofessional librarians.

The Seminary Community

Community life is an integral part of the educational process at Phillips Theological Seminary. Learning, whether in on-campus classrooms or online discussion boards, is enhanced by opportunities to develop bonds of friendship and mutual support between students, faculty, and staff. The primary venues for such relationships on campus are chapel services, shared meals, and gatherings in the student commons. Distance education students develop close relationships through online small group work, virtual chapel services, and contact with colleagues and professors.

Services for morning prayer, community worship, and evening prayer are held in the chapel each Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday during the academic year. A Worship Practicum, providing opportunities for students to plan and lead services, is facilitated by the coordinator of seminary worship and chapel. The goal is to plan a variety of worship experiences from diverse liturgical traditions as part of a broad and inclusive education for Christian ministry. Participants in the tuition-free practicum earn credit toward graduation. Communion is celebrated periodically, and an offering, which goes to the student emergency fund, is occasionally received. Faculty members and guest preachers are often invited to participate. Worship resources are available to online and on campus students on the seminary’s website.

Elective courses in the history and practice of spiritual disciplines are offered on a regular basis. Mentoring for spiritual growth and direction, both individually and in small groups, is available. Members of the community receive regular newsletters via email that share joys and concerns and inform them of upcoming deadlines and events.

Comprehensive Online Program

After five years of providing high quality graduate courses online, the faculty of PTS was approved by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada (ATS) to offer a comprehensive online education program, effective with the fall 2009 semester. Now many of the required and elective courses which contribute to the CGTS, MDiv, MTS, and MAMC academic programs at PTS may be taken online as well as on campus. Online course projections are available well in advance. Because of registration limits, the seminary may privilege enrollments in some online courses of students who must travel more than 150 miles one-way to campus.
In accord with policies established by the University Senate of the United Methodist Church, United Methodist students enrolled in an ordination track program (MDiv or MAMC), are limited to completing only one-third of the degree program online (29 hours for MDiv students and 16 hours for MAMC students).

In accord with current ATS accreditation standards, 24 semester-hours of the coursework required for the MDiv, MTS, and MAMC degrees, i.e., the equivalent of one year of full-time academic study, must be completed on our Tulsa campus. However, those hours may be completed in multiple formats—week-long concentrated courses, weekend courses, weekly seminars, or arranged courses—scheduled in the January term, the fall and spring semesters, or in the summer.

Every effort is being made to integrate fully within the life of the seminary community those students who are taking the majority of their courses online and those who are taking the majority of their courses on-campus, providing appropriate student services and academic advisement for all enrolled.

Student Senate

The Student Senate is a body of student representatives elected each spring semester for the following academic year. The Senate works to create and support a spirit of hospitality within our diverse community. Student Senate members are available as resource persons for both on-campus and online students.

Contextual Education and Supervised Ministries

Contextual education comprises all of the ways persons learn about themselves and others through interactions with their environment. For persons engaged in ministry, working in a ministry setting offers one avenue for such learning to take place. Within this larger concept of contextual education, supervised ministries is the component of the seminary program that emphasizes experiential learning.

The supervised ministry program has three goals. First, students learn and practice the skills necessary for the particular ministry in which they are engaged. Positions in a variety of ministerial settings may be arranged by students, including staff positions in local congregations; campus ministry offices; hospice organizations; social service agencies; or hospital or military chaplaincy offices. While certain ministerial skills are applicable in all settings, each specific form of ministry also requires particular skills that are unique. Through observation of and weekly discussions with a mentor, students learn and practice these skills in a supportive environment.

Second, students seek to develop a ministerial identity and deepen their self-awareness in ministry. By actually practicing the arts of ministry and observing the results of their activities, students come to a better understanding of who they are as ministers, why they react to situations the way they do, and how to act with intentionality and integrity. This goal is supported by case study meetings with a mentor, monthly discussions with a Ministry Support Committee, and case study seminar gatherings with a professor and other students at the seminary.

Third, students endeavor to bring their ministerial experiences into conversation with theological teachings, thereby allowing both the meaning of the experiences and the understanding of the teachings to be transformed. Much of this theological reflection is carried out in the seminary setting, but mentors and Ministry Support Committees are invited to make time to consider the interrelationship between the experiential, practical aspects of ministry and the intellectual, reflective work of making sense of life experiences.
Enrollment in the Supervised Ministries Program

In order to participate in the supervised ministries (SM) program, a student must serve a minimum of ten hours per week in an approved ministry setting with the guidance and support of an appropriate mentor. A ministry setting must provide the student a specific leadership responsibility that allows the student to engage in a particular practice of ministry. In addition, the student will be expected to meet with a Ministry Support Committee (MSC), comprised of 3-5 persons from the ministry setting, four times during the semester.

Several avenues are available for locating an appropriate ministry site. Students are encouraged to make contact with the judicatory officials representing their denomination. These representatives can provide information on licensing and endorsement, as well as identify church openings available to student ministers. The director of supervised ministries also maintains a notebook of "Ministry Opportunities," listing openings in congregations, hospitals, hospices, and social service agencies. All decisions to engage students as part-time ministers or staff members are made by local congregations and agencies. Therefore, although qualified students desiring part-time positions are generally able to find suitable settings, a field setting cannot be guaranteed by the seminary.

An institutional internship such as Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) may not be taken concurrently with a supervised ministry course with credit received for both. The educational process is designed around a sequence of SM courses and reflection on actual work in ministry settings. Therefore, the supervised ministry program does not permit concurrent enrollment in more than one SM course. Two semester-hours of supervised ministry courses are required for MAMC students, and three semester-hours for MDiv students, regardless of previous ministerial or other professional experiences. No exemptions in this regard are granted. SM 503 must be a student’s final supervised ministries course.

An application form must be submitted to the Director of Supervised Ministries by the appropriate deadline in order to be considered for enrollment in the Supervised Ministries Program. Moreover, academic credit for all SM courses is granted only after all required evaluation forms and reports are received from the student, the student’s mentor and the Ministry Support Committee. Enrollment in SM courses is limited, and registration at the earliest point possible is highly recommended.

Academic credit granted in the supervised ministries program reflects class contact hours in the sequence of SM courses, as well as a student’s total time commitment to this special component of professional education. Failure to satisfactorily engage all components of the Supervised Ministries Program as outlined in the handbook, such as evaluation reports submitted in a timely manner, may result in not receiving a passing grade in the SM course. All information and forms about the Supervised Ministries Program can be found on the seminary’s website at www.ptstulsa.edu.

Denominational Ministerial Formation

In order to be faithful in the preparation of students for ecumenically-oriented ministries within the context of historic denominational communions, the seminary appoints directors of ministerial formation from a variety of denominations as warranted by student enrollment. Currently, the seminary has appointed directors of ministerial formation to serve students affiliated with Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), United Methodist Church, Presbyterian Church (USA), United Church of Christ, Evangelical Lutheran Church of America, Episcopal Church, Unitarian Universalist Association of Congregations, Cooperative Baptist Fellowship, and other Baptist traditions.

Ministerial formation directors are generally regular or adjunct members of the faculty. In most cases, they are not judicatory officials and carry no judicatorial authority. That is, most do not engage in ecclesial certification and have no responsibility for placement in ministerial sites. Nevertheless, whenever needed and requested, the seminary may appoint a formation director who does carry judicatiorial authority.

The primary function of the denominational formation directors is to assist candidates, particularly those preparing for ordination or seeking ministerial credentials, to navigate appropriately their ecclesial waters. Among the tasks related to that basic function may be to:

• provide or help arrange for required and elective denominational studies as defined by the seminary and church;
• identify and promote learning opportunities provided by mission trips, conferences, denominational internships, and specialized study programs;
• arrange meetings with church leaders;
• assist with credentialing processes, including preparation for ordination;
• help students connect with their middle judicatory, national, and general offices; and
• disseminate denominational news, actions, and policy updates.

Relationship to The University of Tulsa

Phillips Theological Seminary and The University of Tulsa maintain a cooperative relationship in higher education. Students at the two institutions have reciprocal library research and borrowing privileges. PTS and TU occasionally cross-list courses and routinely facilitate cross-registration, with students paying tuition to their home institutions. Seminary students interested in enrolling in TU courses should consult the Office of the Dean at PTS.

When TU undergraduate students are allowed to enroll in graduate courses at PTS, the seminary differentiates course requirements and student learning outcomes for post-baccalaureate or undergraduate credit, per ATS accreditation standards. PTS students who are allowed to enroll in undergraduate courses at TU must satisfy additional requirements, negotiated with the instructor, in order to receive graduate credit.

Counseling Services and Spiritual Direction

In addition to informal counseling provided by members of the faculty and staff, the seminary provides access to licensed professional counselors and spiritual directors on a limited basis. Funds available through student fees provide confidential counseling services free of charge for individual students. For more information, contact the Chaplain or the Associate Dean for Admissions and Student Services.

Disabilities Policies

Consistent with its mission to educate women and men for varied Christian ministries in church and society, Phillips Theological Seminary is committed to providing equal access to its programs of graduate professional education for all qualified students with learning, physical, medical, or psychological disabilities. Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 prohibit discrimination against individuals with disabilities. Accordingly, the seminary aims to provide reasonable accommodation for qualified individuals with a disability to ensure their access and participation in seminary programs.

Once admitted to PTS, but at least six weeks prior to matriculation, entering students requesting accommodations should petition the Office of the Associate Dean for Admissions and Student Services for consideration. Current students should petition as early as possible, but at least six weeks prior to the beginning of the semester in which accommodations are requested. Later submission of documentation may result in a delay in implementing any accommodation plan. No documentation will result in a waiver of PTS admissions policies, expectations regarding acceptable behavior, or course objectives and requirements, including the attendance policy. For details, see “Disabilities: Policies and Procedures” in the Student Handbook or on the PTS website (www.ptstulsa.edu).
The Certificate in Graduate Theological Studies (CGTS)

Purpose

Phillips Theological Seminary now offers a variety of thematic options in its Certificate in Graduate Theological Studies (CGTS) Program. The 18 semester-hour program is primarily designed for persons: (a) who do not anticipate completing a seminary degree program but want to enhance their understanding of Christian faith and practice through a limited and focused course of graduate study; or (b) who wish to explore the possibility of graduate degree work by beginning with a certificate studies option of special interest, knowing that all PTS courses taken for credit may be subsequently applied to a PTS degree program. In addition, persons who already hold a master’s level degree in religious studies or theology but wish to engage in a focused program of continuing education may petition for advanced standing and appropriate course substitutions.

Admission and Program Requirements

All applicants should possess a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university, although in exceptional circumstances a person may be admitted on probation with other credentials. Admission standards are the same as for the Master of Arts in Ministry and Culture degree program. CGTS students are eligible to enroll in all master’s level courses at Phillips Theological Seminary, subject to normal limits and course prerequisites. Students should consult with their advisers about course selection. No transfer credits from other institutions are accepted for the certificate program. The 18 semester-hour program must be completed with a cumulative grade point average of 2.25 or higher. All course credits successfully completed as a part of the program may subsequently be applied to a degree program at Phillips Theological Seminary, should the student be formally admitted. All requirements for the Certificate in Graduate Theological Studies must be completed within six years. Financial aid is available.

Online CGTS Coursework

The CGTS program may be completed entirely online, depending on the thematic option selected. Online course projections are available well in advance. Courses which are offered on our Tulsa campus may be completed in multiple formats—week-long concentrated courses, weekend courses, weekly seminars, or arranged courses—scheduled in the January term, the fall and spring semesters, or in the summer. The seminary may privilege enrollments in some online courses of students who must travel more than 150 miles one-way to campus.

MASTER’S DEGREE PROGRAMS

Master's of Divinity (MDiv)

Purpose

The 87 semester-hour Master of Divinity program is the basic graduate professional degree program in the seminary and is designed to provide the foundational academic preparation for an educated ministry.

The focus of the MDiv program is on pastoral ministry, but the curriculum is organized to provide ample opportunities for students to explore and develop their interests and competences in other forms of service, including ministerial vocations in Christian education, college and seminary teaching, campus ministry, institutional chaplaincy, pastoral care and counseling, the administration of church agencies, the ministry of music, church-related social work, and global mission work.

Program Goals

Upon completing the MDiv program, students will be able to:
1. act as responsible biblical interpreters critically informed by current historical, literary and theological scholarship in the field of biblical studies.
2. construct a guiding theology for ministerial practice that takes into account a liberative hermeneutic and is responsive to key themes in Christian theology, biblical exegesis, Christian history, and each student’s own denomination heritage and polity.
3. preach, teach, plan and lead worship, offer care and counsel, and otherwise administer and lead faith communities and institutions of care in ways that integrate the work of biblical, historical and theological scholarship.
4. articulate understandings of individuals, groups, and cultures that are informed by conversation between the theological disciplines and critical studies in arts, culture, and the sciences.
5. demonstrate an understanding of the spiritual life, individually and in community, that integrates theology, biblical studies, and practice.

Evaluation of Learning

There are two formal and overlapping assessment processes for student academic achievement in the MDiv program. The first involves grading evaluations given in each course for the quality of the student's academic achievements, including work with mentors in supervised ministry settings. The second involves a portfolio strategy. Entering students are given a portfolio holder, a list of course assignments to be collected with the instructor's evaluative comments, and a schedule of required periodic reviews with their faculty advisers of their educational goals and experiences, theological development, and vocational clarity.
Online Coursework

Many of the required and elective courses which contribute to the MDiv degree program at PTS may be taken online as well as on campus. Online course projections are available well in advance. The seminary may privilege enrollments in some online courses of students who must travel more than 150 miles one-way to campus.

In accord with current ATS accreditation standards, 24 semester-hours of the coursework required for the MDiv degree, i.e., the equivalent of one year of full-time academic study, must be completed on our Tulsa campus. However, those hours may be completed in multiple formats—week-long concentrated courses, weekend courses, weekly seminars, or arranged courses—scheduled in the January term, the fall and spring semesters, or in the summer.

Degree Requirements

The Master of Divinity degree requires the completion of 87 semester-hours with a cumulative grade point average of 2.25 or higher. Of the 87 semester-hours, 63 must be taken to fulfill particular requirements distributed among the six divisions of the curriculum. The remaining 24 semester-hours are elective hours (unless a student’s denominational requirements exceed 3 semester-hours) and may be used to broaden a student’s understanding of the Christian tradition and the nature of the Christian witness in the contemporary world, and to develop professional competences that will contribute to future ministries.

Curriculum

The curriculum is divided into six divisions. Each student must successfully complete required courses in all divisions. Required introductory courses in a division normally function as prerequisites for advanced work in that division.

MDiv students should take note of the three interrelated courses that give special attention to vocational issues: CD 502 Vocation and Theology I: Introduction to Theological Education, PT 571 Vocation and Theology II: The Art and Practices of Ministry (which normally should be taken as a middler student), and TE 621 Vocation and Theology III: Constructive Theology (which normally should be taken as a senior student after the completion of 60 semester-hours). Accordingly, CD 502 is a prerequisite for PT 571 which is a prerequisite for TE 621.

Because the prior academic preparation of students varies considerably, students with previous academic work in a certain area of study may, upon consultation with his or her adviser and a division representative, petition the dean for permission to bypass some basic required courses and to meet the required credit hours in the division by registering for more advanced coursework.

Required courses may also be taken for elective credit.

Required courses may not be taken as Independent Research.

The semester hours required in each division are as follows:

Division I. Biblical Studies: 12 semester-hours
Division II. Historical Studies: 9 semester-hours (6 in History of Christianity plus a minimum of 3 semester-hours in Denominational Studies)
Division III. Theology and Ethics: 12 semester-hours
Division IV. Christianity and Culture: 6 semester-hours
Requirements in Division I. Biblical Studies

1. The twelve required semester-hours in Biblical Studies include six hours in Hebrew Bible and six hours in New Testament.
2. In the field of Hebrew Bible, students are required to take HB 500 Introduction to the Hebrew Bible (3 hours) plus one advanced exegetical course (3 hours). HB 500 is considered a prerequisite for all further coursework in the field, except for Hebrew language study. Unless otherwise noted on the class schedule, all courses in Hebrew Bible beyond HB 500 require exegetical papers and satisfy the divisional requirement for advanced coursework in HB, including HB 643 Biblical Hebrew II: Exegesis.
3. In the field of New Testament, students are required to take NT 500 Introduction to the New Testament (3 semester-hours) plus one advanced exegetical course (3 semester-hours). NT 500 is considered a prerequisite for all further coursework in the field, except for Greek language study. Unless otherwise noted on the class schedule, all courses in New Testament beyond NT 500 require exegetical papers and satisfy the divisional requirement for advanced coursework in NT, including NT 644 Biblical Greek II: Exegesis.
4. A Biblical Theology (BT) course may satisfy a requirement for an advanced exegetical course in either Hebrew Bible or New Testament, as announced on the course schedule.

Requirements in Division II. Historical Studies

1. A minimum of 9 semester-hours is required in the History of Christianity.
2. Each student is required to take HS 502 History of Christianity I: Early and Medieval and HS 504 History of Christianity II: Reformation and Modern. Normally, one of the courses is taken in the first semester of study; they may be taken in any order.
3. Each student is also required to take at least one 3 semester-hour course in the history of his or her church tradition.
4. Disciples of Christ students must take HS 530 History and Polity of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).
5. Presbyterian students must register for either HS 536 Presbyterians in the United States, HS 537 Reformed Theology, or HS 538 Presbyterian Polity.
6. Cooperating Baptist Fellowship of Oklahoma (CBFO) students must take a total of 6 semester-hours, including HS 534 Baptist History and Polity and HS 535 Baptist Theological Perspectives. Students affiliated with other Baptist traditions are required to take either HS 534 or HS 535.
7. United Methodist students are required to take a total of 12 semester-hours: 9 semester-hours in three denomination-specific courses, including HS 531 United Methodist History, HS 532 United Methodist Doctrine, and HS 533 United Methodist Polity, plus the 3 semester-hour course: PT 672 The Church and Evangelism.
8. United Church of Christ students are required to take HS 539 History and Polity of the United Church of Christ.
9. Unitarian Universalist students are required to take HS 541 Unitarian Universalist History and Polity.
10. Students who are members of denominations not specifically mentioned above may satisfy the denominational studies requirement by taking a guided research course on the history and polity of the particular denomination in which they intend to practice ministry. After consulting with the dean about appropriate arrangements, such students should register for HS 546 Readings in Denominational History.
11. As an alternative, with the dean’s permission, such students may choose, along with all students who are members of non-denominational churches, to enroll in HS 518 Christianity in the United States.

12. Students in the MDiv program are required to notify immediately the Office of Admissions if they propose changing denominations or religious communities in which they are members, in which they expect to serve in ministry, and which supported their application to the MDiv degree program. They also must notify all relevant PTS directors of denominational formation.

Requirements in Division III. Theology and Ethics

The 12 semester-hours required in Theology and Ethics are distributed among the following courses:

1. TE 500 Introduction to Theology. This 3 semester-hour course is normally taken in the second or third semester of study. Prerequisite is one of the following courses: HB 500 Introduction to the Hebrew Bible, NT 500 Introduction to the New Testament, HS 502 History of Christianity I: Early and Medieval, or HS 504 History of Christianity II: Reformation and Modern.

2. One 3 semester-hour advanced theology course (e.g., TE 600 Doctrine of God, TE 602 Christology, TE 606 Doctrine of the Church, TE 624 Feminist Theology, TE 625 Comparative Theologians, TE 627 Black and Womanist Theologies, HS 550 Introduction to a Christian Theology of Religions, or another approved theology course). This requirement is normally fulfilled in a student’s middler year.

3. TE 512 Ethics, Culture, and the Mission of the Church, a 3 semester-hour course normally taken in a student’s middler year.

4. TE 621 Vocation and Theology III: Constructive Theology, a 3 semester-hour advanced course, in which students develop their own constructive theological statement, normally taken in the senior year after the completion of 60 semester-hours.

Requirements in Division IV. Christianity and Culture

The 6 semester-hours required in Christianity and Culture are satisfied by taking any two of the 3 semester-hour courses offered in this division, or any course offered in another division that, according to the published course schedule, fulfills this requirement.

Requirements in Division V. Practical Theology

1. Twenty-one semester-hours are required in the division.

2. Fifteen of these semester-hours are required in the following areas of ministerial practice and are met by taking five specific courses:
   - PT 500 Introduction to Preaching
   - PT 550 Educational Dimensions of Ministry
   - PT 571 Vocation and Theology II: The Art and Practices of Ministry
   - PT 520 Care in the Christian Community
   - PT 540 Theology and Practice of Public Worship

3. In addition to these five courses, each student is required to take one additional 3 semester-hour course in Division V, either in Preaching, Christian Education, Pastoral Leadership, Pastoral Care and Counseling, or Worship.

4. Beyond the 18 semester-hours listed above, 3 semester-hours are required in Supervised Ministries and are normally met by taking three distinct 1 semester-hour courses: SM 500 Reflections on Ministry Experiences, SM 502 Leadership in Ministry, and SM 503 Integrating the Theory and Practice of Ministry, which must be the last of the three.
Students who register for supervised ministry courses, all of which have prerequisites and limited enrollment, must submit required paperwork to the director of supervised ministries by the established deadline. Students who fail to do so will be dropped from the class.

Credit can be granted for Clinical Pastoral Education at appropriately accredited centers (e.g., those accredited by ACPE, the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education). See the general descriptions of opportunities for contextual education and Clinical Pastoral Education for further information.

Requirements in Division VI. Cross Disciplinary Studies

One 3 semester-hour course is required in this division: CD 502 Vocation and Theology I: Introduction to Theological Education, which is designed to be taken in a student’s first semester and is required within the first 13 hours of the program and before enrollment in supervised ministries courses.

Elective Courses

Most MDiv students have 24 semester-hours of elective coursework. Because of additional requirements in denominational studies, CBFO students have 21 semester-hours of elective work and UMC students have 15. An elective course is any course that does not meet a specific degree requirement in a student’s program. Students should consult with their faculty advisers about selecting elective courses that enhance their ministries. They should also avoid taking too many elective courses in the early stages of their academic programs.

Independent Research

Students may pursue special interests in advanced research in any division of the curriculum by requesting an independent research course for 1-3 semester-hours credit. Required courses may not be taken on an independent research basis. Normally, only those students who have completed the required courses in the relevant curriculum division and who have shown evidence of a capacity for independent study will be allowed to enroll.

Forms for independent study may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar. The enrollment must be approved by the instructor who will direct the research and by the dean. Normally, no more than one independent study may be taken in any one semester and no more than 6 semester-hours of independent study may count toward the MDiv degree. The independent study request form must be filed in the Office of the Registrar with all appropriate signatures by the first day of class of the semester or summer session in which the independent study course is to be taken.

Theses

Although a thesis is not required of MDiv students, a thesis option is available. MDiv students who wish to write a thesis must have completed at least 57 semester-hours with a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher prior to the year the thesis is to be written.

The thesis should be written during the last two semesters of the student’s enrollment in the MDiv degree program. Students should enroll for TS 695 and TS 696: MDiv Thesis Research and Writing I and II, respectively, in their last two semesters.

No more than two semesters may be used to complete the thesis. Completion of a satisfactory thesis counts for 6 semester-hours credit. Failure to complete the thesis in the required time may result in no credit and no grade for any part of the student’s research.
Each MDiv thesis will be evaluated by two professors: an adviser and a reader. The adviser must be a member of the regular PTS faculty.

The thesis proposal should be prepared in consultation with the faculty adviser and reader, who should normally approve it no later than November 30, if the student plans to register for TS 695 the following spring semester, or March 31, if the student plans to register for TS 695 the following fall semester. After the proposal is approved by the faculty adviser and reader, the student must submit the thesis proposal to the dean for administrative approval.

An MDiv thesis proposal form is available from the Office of the Registrar. The thesis proposal should include the following information:

- proposed subject of the thesis;
- range of research anticipated;
- educational and professional goals the student expects to accomplish in the thesis; and
- a preliminary bibliography.

Theses must be prepared according to form guidelines in Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007, or other guidelines specified on the PTS website. Two bound copies of the thesis will be placed on deposit in the Phillips Theological Seminary library.

An MDiv thesis shall be between 50 and 80 printed pages.

A standard administrative fee ($75 in 2010-2011) is charged for all master’s theses at the time that approval is requested. This fee covers binding two copies for the library and other related administrative expenses. Students must submit to the library two copies of the final thesis on acid-free document bond or 100% cotton bond paper. They may submit additional personal copies for binding for a fee.

Clinical Pastoral Education

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is a first-hand learning experience under certified supervision that provides ministers and theological students opportunities for intensive study of pastoral relationships and for seeking to make clear in understanding and practice the resources, methods, and meanings of the Christian faith as expressed through pastoral care.

Phillips Theological Seminary gives advanced standing with credit toward the MDiv degree program for CPE work taken at accredited centers. Students normally petition to receive the maximum of 6 semester-hours of academic credit for a unit of CPE (1 semester-hour of SM credit plus 5 semester-hours of elective credit). Students are charged one-half PTS tuition for receiving advanced standing with credit toward a degree program.

There are several CPE programs in the geographical area served by PTS, including those in Tulsa, Wichita, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Little Rock, Dallas, Topeka, and Denver. CPE may be taken at other locations, provided both the supervisor and the center are appropriately accredited. Interested students should refer, for example, to the ACPE website (www.acpe.edu) for more information about CPE training and centers which they accredit.

Students are encouraged to complete one year of seminary before considering CPE. The PTS course, PT 565 Effective Hospital Ministry, is normally offered in the spring semester for students who have a preliminary interest in CPE training. This course does not replace a certified unit of CPE. Prior to enrollment in any CPE program, those interested must complete the required application forms provided by the Office of the Registrar and consult with the Associate Dean for Contextual Education and Church Relations, John L. Thomas, Jr., who is an ACPE certified supervisor.
United Methodist Studies Program

The seminary is approved by the University Senate of the United Methodist Church to educate candidates for ordained ministry. The PTS faculty includes ordained elders in the United Methodist Church, including the president of the seminary, Gary E. Peluso-Verdend. Moreover, the seminary has an endowed chair in UM Studies, currently held by Ellen J. Blue, Mouzon Biggs, Jr. Associate Professor of the History of Christianity and United Methodist Studies. Students preparing for ministry within the United Methodist Church constitute one of the largest denominational student groups in the seminary. UM students are encouraged to remain in close contact with their conference boards of ordained ministry and the PTS director of UMC ministerial formation about their vocational aims, ministerial opportunities, and curricular options.

As part of an 87 semester-hour MDiv program, the requirements of the 2008 Book of Discipline for ordination and conference membership in the United Methodist Church are met in part by completing the following sequence of denominational courses:
- HS 531 United Methodist History (3 semester-hours)
- HS 532 United Methodist Doctrine (3 semester-hours)
- HS 533 United Methodist Polity (3 semester-hours)

These three courses are offered on a permanent rotation schedule. It is recommended that students take either HS 502 History of Christianity I: Early and Medieval or HS 504 History of Christianity II: Reformation and Modern before enrolling in these courses.

In addition to the sequence of three denominational courses, UMC students must also take a course on evangelism, normally fulfilled by taking PT 672 The Church and Evangelism, and a course on the mission of the church, normally fulfilled by taking TE 512 Ethics, Culture, and the Mission of the Church.

The following courses, among others, may satisfy basic graduate theological studies requirements for ministerial candidates in the United Methodist Church:
- HB 500 Introduction to the Hebrew Bible
- NT 500 Introduction to the New Testament
- HS 502 History of Christianity I: Early and Medieval
- HS 504 History of Christianity II: Reformation and Modern
- TE 500 Introduction to Theology
- TE 512 Ethics, Culture, and the Mission of the Church
- PT 540 Theology and Practice of Public Worship
- PT 672 The Church and Evangelism

Baptist Studies Program

In cooperation with various Baptist churches affiliated with the Cooperating Baptist Fellowship in Oklahoma (CBFO), National Baptist Convention, Progressive National Baptist Convention, and American Baptist Churches U.S.A., Phillips Theological Seminary established a Baptist Studies Program in 2002. A director of Baptist Ministerial Formation currently offers counsel to Baptist seminarians and works with supportive churches and individuals to strengthen the program. While students from all Baptist traditions are encouraged to take advantage of courses offered through the Baptist Studies Program, students affiliated with and anticipating ministerial service within the Cooperating Baptist Fellowship of Oklahoma are required to enroll in the following two courses (for a total of 6 semester-hours):
- HS 534 Baptist History and Polity
- HS 535 Baptist Theological Perspectives

Either of these two courses will satisfy the 3 semester-hour denominational requirement for students from all other Baptist traditions.
Black Church Studies Program

PTS aims to provide all students opportunities for critical reflection on racism and religion and resources for practical ministerial formation which contribute to an increased understanding and appreciation of the historic witness of the Black Church in the U.S. Accordingly, the following courses have been offered in recent years: The Theology and Ethics of Martin Luther King, Jr.; Religion in Black Popular Music; Race, Religion, and Education in the African American Experience; The Black Church Tradition in America; Religion and the Civil Rights Movement; Preaching in the Black Church; and Womanist Theology.

The Master of Theological Studies (MTS)

Purpose

The purpose of the Master of Theological Studies (MTS) degree program, which requires the completion of 48 semester-hours, is to develop broad theological understandings for general education purposes.

The MTS degree program has two distinct tracks:

Track I: General Theological Studies is designed for persons who seek through an engagement with contemporary biblical, theological, and historical studies to become better educated about important religious and ethical issues in our religiously plural world and/or to serve as more effective lay leaders in church and society.

Track II: Pre-doctoral Theological Studies is specifically designed for persons who are preparing for further academic coursework in other institutions of higher education leading to a research doctorate in a specialized discipline of Religious Studies.

For most denominations, the MTS, standing alone, does not include either a sufficient number of hours or an adequate emphasis on ministerial formation and practice to meet the requirements for denominational certification or ordination. Moreover, The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada (ATS) has determined that this degree is not designed to prepare students for the practice of ministry.

Program Goals

Upon completing either track of the MTS program, students will be able to:

1. Act as responsible biblical interpreters critically informed by current historical, literary and theological scholarship in the field of biblical studies.
2. Articulate substantive issues in Christian theology in a manner that takes into account a liberative hermeneutic responsive to key themes in biblical exegesis and Christian history.
3. Articulate understandings of individuals, groups, and cultures that are informed by conversation between the theological disciplines and critical studies in arts, culture, and the sciences.
4. Demonstrate the student’s ability to conduct advanced research by:
   a. In Track I, producing an integrative paper in which the student engages in critical reflection on an interpretive issue or set of issues that has emerged in her or his course work with relevant biblical, theological, ethical, historical or cultural materials as articulated in the previous goals; or
b. In Track II, producing a master’s thesis in which the student presents a sustained argument on a particular interpretive issue or set of issues with relevant biblical, theological, ethical, historical or cultural materials as articulated in the previous goals.

Evaluation of Learning

In the MTS program, each student’s coursework is carefully evaluated. Furthermore, along with MDiv and MAMC students, MTS students keep a portfolio of their academic work, which is periodically reviewed with faculty advisers. Finally, there is a thorough evaluation of a required integrative senior paper (in Track I), or a master’s thesis (in Track II), both of which require advanced research and writing skills.

Online Coursework

Many of the required and elective courses which contribute to the MTS degree program at PTS may be taken online as well as on campus. Online course projections are available well in advance. The seminary may privilege enrollments in some online courses of students who must travel more than 150 miles one-way to campus.

In accord with current ATS accreditation standards, 24 semester-hours of the coursework required for the MTS degree, i.e., the equivalent of one year of full-time academic study, must be completed on our Tulsa campus. However, those hours may be completed in multiple formats—week-long concentrated courses, weekend courses, weekly seminars, or arranged courses—scheduled in the January term, the fall and spring semesters, or in the summer.

Degree Requirements

The MTS degree requires the completion of 48 semester-hours with a cumulative grade point average of 2.25 or higher. All students must take 30 semester-hours of foundational courses. Students in Track I must complete 15 semester-hours of elective coursework plus a 3 semester-hour independent study course in which they produce an integrative research paper. Students in Track II must complete the 30 semester-hour requirement in foundational courses, 12 semester-hours in specialization courses, and 6 hours of thesis work. MTS students should work closely with their advisers in selecting the courses that best prepare them for the research and writing requirements of their particular track.

Integrative Paper (3 semester-hours)

MTS degree students in Track I General Theological Studies are normally required to enroll in IP 674 MTS Integrative Paper Research and Writing (3 semester-hours) in their final semester. The paper should demonstrate the student’s ability to conduct advanced research and engage in critical, integrative reflection on an interpretive issue or set of issues that has emerged in his or her coursework.

No more than one semester may be used to complete the integrative paper. Failure to complete the paper successfully in the required time may result in a grade of “F,” requiring the student to re-enroll in IP 674 in order to graduate.

Each integrative paper will be evaluated by an adviser who must be a member of the regular PTS faculty.

A proposal for an integrative paper should be prepared in consultation with the faculty adviser who should normally approve it no later than November 30, if the student plans to register for IP 674 the following spring semester, or March 31, if the student plans to register for IP 674 the following fall semester.

A proposal form for an MTS integrative paper is available from the Office of the Registrar. The proposal should include the following information:

   a. proposed subject;
   b. range of research anticipated;
   c. educational and professional goals the student expects to accomplish; and
   d. a preliminary bibliography.

   The integrative paper, which shall be approximately 30 printed pages, must be prepared according to form guidelines in Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007, or other guidelines specified on the PTS website.
Track II: Pre-doctoral Theological Studies

Foundational Courses (30 semester-hours)

4. Christianity and Culture

Thesis (6 semester-hours)

MTS students in Track II Pre-doctoral Theological Studies are normally required to enroll in TS 675 MTS Thesis Research and Writing I (3 semester-hours) and TS 676 MTS Thesis Research and Writing II (3 semester-hours), in their final two semesters. The thesis should demonstrate the student’s ability to conduct advanced research, formulate a thesis, and present a sustained argument on a particular interpretative issue or set of issues in contemporary religious studies sufficient to promise success in subsequent doctoral studies leading to a Ph.D. or Th.D. degree.

No more than two semesters may be used to complete the thesis. Completion of a satisfactory thesis counts for 6 semester-hours credit. Failure to complete the thesis in the required time may result in no credit and no grade for any part of the student’s research.

Each thesis will be evaluated by two professors: an adviser and a reader. The adviser must be a member of the regular PTS faculty. Normally, the adviser and reader will conduct an oral defense of the thesis.

A thesis proposal should be prepared in consultation with the faculty adviser and reader, who should normally approve it no later than November 30, if the student plans to register for TS 675 the following spring semester, or March 31, if the student plans to register for TS 675 the following fall semester. After the proposal is approved by the faculty adviser and reader, the student must submit the thesis proposal to the dean for administrative approval.

A thesis proposal form is available from the Office of the Registrar. The thesis proposal should include the following information:
1. proposed subject of the thesis;
2. range of research anticipated;
3. educational and professional goals the student expects to accomplish in the thesis; and
4. a preliminary bibliography.

Theses, which shall be between 50 and 80 printed pages, must be prepared according to form guidelines in Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007, or other guidelines specified on the PTS website. Two bound copies of the thesis will be placed on deposit in the Phillips Theological Seminary library.

A standard administrative fee ($75 in 2010-2011) is charged for all master’s theses at the time that approval is requested. This fee covers binding two copies for the library and other related administrative expenses. Students must submit to the library two copies of the final thesis on acid-free document bond or 100% cotton bond paper.
Master of Arts in Ministry and Culture (MAMC)

Purpose

The Master of Arts in Ministry and Culture (MAMC) and the Master of Divinity (MDiv) degree programs are both designed to equip persons to fulfill their vocations in providing faithful and effective forms of ministry in congregations and in the world.

While the more extensive 87 semester-hour MDiv remains the degree required for ordination in most denominations, the 48 semester-hour MAMC degree is designed to affirm and respond to the educational needs of persons interested, for example, in:

- congregational leadership in denominations that do not require in all cases the Master of Divinity degree for ordination;
- forms of diaconal ministry, licensed professional ministry, commissioned, or lay ministry (e.g., in Christian education, youth work, hospice care, and counseling and mediation).

The MAMC and Educational Requirements for Ordination in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)

Members of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) who are pursuing recognition as commissioned ministers or seeking ordination on the Apprentice Track may satisfy some or all of their educational requirements through the specially configured Track I of the MAMC degree program outlined below. Interested students should consult the PTS director of Disciples ministerial formation about their vocational aims and remain in contact with their Regional Ministry Commissions.

The MAMC and Educational Requirements for Ordination in the United Methodist Church

United Methodist students preparing for ordination as deacons should consider the MDiv degree program for their theological education. However, they may configure the MAMC degree program—if they select Tracks II or III as indicated below—to fulfill all of their basic graduate theological requirements, as detailed in the 2008 Book of Discipline, and develop a vocational specialization. Interested students should consult the PTS director of UMC ministerial formation about their vocational aims and remain in contact with their conference boards of ordained ministry.

Program Goals

Students in the MAMC program will develop their abilities to:

1. act as responsible biblical interpreters critically informed by current historical, literary and theological scholarship in the field of biblical studies at a level appropriate to the area of specialized ministry.
2. articulate a theology appropriate to the area of specialized ministry that takes into account a liberative hermeneutic and is responsive to key themes in Christian theology, ethics, biblical exegesis, Christian history, and each student’s own denominational heritage and polity.
3. demonstrate the skills and practices associated with the area of specialized ministry in conversation with the student’s denominational heritage, Christian traditions, theological formulations, and cultural contexts.
4. develop an understanding of the student’s own personal and spiritual formation appropriate to their area of specialized ministry.
Evaluation of Learning

In the MAMC program, each student’s coursework is carefully evaluated. Furthermore, along with MDiv and MTS students, all MAMC students maintain a portfolio of their academic work. Entering students are given a portfolio holder, a list of course assignments to be collected with the instructor’s evaluative comments, and a schedule of required periodic reviews with their faculty advisers of their educational goals and experiences, theological development, and vocational clarity.

Online Coursework

Many of the required and elective courses which contribute to the MAMC degree program at PTS may be taken online as well as on campus. Online course projections are available well in advance. The seminary may privilege enrollments in some online courses of students who must travel more than 150 miles one-way to campus.

In accord with current ATS accreditation standards, 24 semester-hours of the coursework required for the MAMC degree, i.e., the equivalent of one year of full-time academic study, must be completed on our Tulsa campus. However, those hours may be completed in multiple formats—week-long concentrated courses, weekend courses, weekly seminars, or arranged courses—scheduled in the January term, the fall and spring semesters, or in the summer.

Degree Requirements and Curricular Tracks

The MAMC degree program requires the completion of 48 semester-hours with a cumulative grade point average of 2.25 or higher.

The program offers the following three basic curricular tracks, each with a distinct focus and set of requirements:
Track I: Congregational Leadership
Track II: Christian Education
Track III: The History and Practice of Christian Spirituality

The selection of a curricular track in the MAMC program, which should be made at the time of application for admission, must be related to the preparation for a particular form of ministry, whether inside or outside of a local congregation. The supervised ministry settings must be appropriate to the student’s projected form of ministry. The logic of curricular choices must be set forth in a formal statement drafted by the student and approved by the adviser once the student has completed 18 semester-hours in the program. The written statement shall be included in the student’s portfolio.

Students who wish to be authorized for ministry within a particular denomination should include appropriate denominational history and formation courses in their elective hours.

Denominational Configured MAMC Tracks

Track I. Congregational Leadership in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ): 16 Competencies

Regional Ministry Commissions may determine, because of economic, linguistic, vocational, or familial circumstances, that certain commissioned ministers in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) may find an Apprentice Track toward ordination more appropriate than pursuing a full Master of Divinity degree in an ATS-accredited seminary, although an MDiv degree remains the preferred way of satisfying the educational requirements for ordination in the denomination.

Those who have the support of the Region in which they are under care to pursue an Apprentice Track should be able to demonstrate competency in the sixteen areas of ministerial practice identified in the “Theological Foundations and Policies and Criteria for the Ordering of Ministry” by successfully completing PTS’ 48 semester-hour MAMC DOC Track I degree program. The degree requirements are organized below by the sixteen areas. Please note that because an Apprentice Track requires a program of study of approximately 250 contact hours, a single 3 semester-hour course may satisfy expectations in more than one area.

MAMC and Clinical Pastoral Education

Students in the MAMC program may petition for advanced standing with credit toward their degree programs for work taken in appropriately accredited Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) programs. Students may receive a maximum of 6 semester-hours credit for a unit of CPE (1 semester-hour of SM credit plus 5 semester-hours of elective credit).

Petitions must demonstrate the relevance of CPE for a student's vocational goals and academic program and must be approved by his or her adviser, the director of Supervised Ministries, and the dean. Students are charged one-half tuition for receiving advanced standing with credit toward a degree program. Prior to enrollment in any CPE program, those interested should consult John L. Thomas, Jr., associate dean for contextual education and church relations and a CPE supervisor.
Pastoral Leadership is the organizing theme of the seminary’s DMin program. Through reflection on pastoral leadership, the program offers ways of empowering pastors and ministerial leaders to open up the resources and potential of mainline congregations and agencies for participating in the “praxis of God.” This phrase, coined by theologian Peter Hodgson, points toward our conviction that pastoral leadership, as opposed to other forms of leadership, involves a dynamic interplay between contemplation of the activity of God, now and throughout history, and energetic participation in that activity.

The MDiv degree is the academic foundation of the DMin program, and experience in the art and practices of ministry is the practical foundation. Accordingly, applicants to the DMin program are expected to be familiar with the theological disciplines of Biblical Studies, History of Christianity, Systematic Theology, and Practical Theology. They must also have significant professional experience in ministry. ATS, the seminary’s primary accrediting association, defines that as a minimum of 3 years of full-time ministry following the completion of the MDiv degree. Academic preparation and experience in ministry enable applicants to identify certain aspects or issues in ministry on which they wish to focus in their doctoral studies.

Purpose

The purpose of the DMin program at Phillips Theological Seminary is to empower women and men who hold the MDiv degree and are already engaged in various Christian ministries of the church to develop further the talents, competencies, and skills necessary for leading churches in meeting the challenges of the 21st century.

Program Goals

Students in the DMin program in Pastoral Leadership will develop their abilities to:

1. act as responsible contextual theologians demonstrating advanced skills in biblical studies, history of Christianity, and theology;
2. exercise advanced skills in pastoral leadership specific to the student’s area of specialization;
3. integrate research in praxis of ministry in a particular context, the theological disciplines, and conversation with critical studies in arts, culture and the sciences in order to craft a deep study of a specialized area of ministry that will serve the local community and the broader church.

Degree requirements

The DMin program requires a minimum of 32 semester-hours of work, including 9 hours in the Foundation phase, 16 hours in the Specialization phase, and 7 hours in the Project phase. Students should plan for a minimum of four years and a maximum of six years to complete the degree.
Curriculum

Students apply to one of three Specializations in which they will concentrate their work:

- Pastoral Leadership in Homiletics (PLH; admitting students in 2011)
- Pastoral Leadership in Church and Society
- Pastoral Leadership in Spiritual Formation

The DMin program requires 32 semester-hours for completion; students should expect to spend approximately four years in this work and no more than six years. The coursework is divided as follows:

Foundation Phase: 9 semester-hours in Foundation Courses
(Required for DMin students in all specializations):
- DMIN 807 Pastoral Leadership in Context (3 hrs.)
- DMIN 808 The Biblical Message and the Praxis of God (3 hrs.)
- DMIN 809 Constructive Theology of Ministry (3 hrs.)

Specialization Phase: 16 semester-hours in Specialization
Seminars related to a student’s chosen specializations (See DMin Courses of Instruction for detailed descriptions)

Project Phase: 7 semester-hours in Proposal/Project Courses
(Required for DMin students in all specializations):
- DMPR 904 Project Development Seminar I (.5 hr.)
- DMPR 905 Project Development Seminar II (2.5 hrs.)
- DMPR 902 Project Proposal Course (2 hrs.)
- DMPR 906 Project Course (2 hrs.)

On completion of at least one Foundation course, students will enter into the Specialization phase and begin taking courses in their chosen specializations. Each student will also begin individual work on her or his project which provides the substance for the Project phase.

All Foundation phase and Project phase courses and many Specialization phase courses are taught on the PTS campus during DMin Fortnights (two concurrent weeks) at the end of June and the beginning of January. Some Specialization phase courses may be taught online or in other formats.

In the Project phase, which includes 7 hours of the total program, DMin students work directly with a faculty adviser and reader on an original project that makes a contribution to the study and practice of ministry within their chosen specialization. After they complete the Specialization coursework and Project Development Seminar I, they will be assigned an adviser and reader by the DMin director. These persons will be selected in consultation with each student and in light of her or his particular direction of the proposal. Please note that the specialization coordinator of any specialization will be limited in the number of students for whom he or she may serve as adviser or reader.

All project advisers and readers must be Phillips Theological Seminary faculty members and available in all semesters (including summer terms) in which their assigned students are enrolled in Project phase coursework. For a student who is in or has completed the Specialization phase coursework at the Counseling and Mediation Center in Wichita, one reader must be a faculty member on the staff of that partner institution.

Once a student is enrolled in the Project Proposal Course, she or he will begin work on designing her or his own project. If a student does not pass the Project Proposal Course or the Project Course by receiving approval from adviser, reader, and DMin director on a final draft, in the following semester he or she will enroll in Project Proposal Continuation Course or Project Continuation Course. Most students do not pass the Project Proposal Course or the Project Course the first time they enroll in it. A student may enroll in either continuation course for three consecutive semesters (counting the summer term as a semester). If, after three semesters of enrollment in the continuation courses, the student is unable to present an acceptable proposal or project, he or she may be terminated from the program, or allowed to re-enroll in the Project Proposal or Project course.

Candidacy

Once a student’s project proposal has been passed by adviser, reader, specialization coordinator and DMin director and the student has completed all Foundation and Specialization coursework with a 3.0 or better GPA, the student becomes a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Ministry.

The Oral Presentation

When the adviser and reader approve the project report, they notify the DMin director who assists the student in making arrangements for the oral presentation. The DMin director invites all full-time PTS faculty and the faculty of partner institutions to read the project report and attend the oral presentation. The DMin candidate, the adviser, the reader, the lead professor of the appropriate track and the DMin director or the director’s designated alternate are required to attend.

During the oral presentation, which lasts approximately two hours, any faculty member may ask the DMin candidate questions about the project and project report. Toward the end of the presentation, the candidate will be asked to leave the room. The faculty members in attendance will discuss the report and come to consensus on whether to accept it, return it for revisions, or reject it. If the report is accepted, the candidate is approved for graduation. If the report is returned for revisions, the candidate must revise it with the help of the adviser and reader, who may require another oral presentation. A candidate is allowed a maximum of two oral presentations. If the report is not accepted in two presentations, the candidate will be dismissed from the program.

The oral presentation must be satisfactorily completed by February 28 of the academic year if the student wishes to graduate in May of that year.

Project Proposals and Project Reports must be prepared according to the form guidelines in Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses and Dissertations, 7th ed. Final copies of the DMin report with approval page, abstract, copyright approval form, and library invoice must be submitted and approved by the DMin director and the dean at least two weeks prior to graduation. A standard administrative fee ($75 in 2011-2012) is charged for all DMin project reports at the time that approval is requested. This fee covers the binding of two copies for the library and other related administrative expenses. Students must submit to the library two copies of the final project report on acid-free document bond or 100% cotton bond paper. They may submit additional personal copies for binding for a fee.

Failure to meet all deadlines, format and fee requirements for a completed DMin project can prevent a student from participating in graduation exercises and delay receipt of one’s diploma.

Pastoral Leadership in Care and Counseling

PTS offers this specialization in conjunction with the Counseling and Mediation Center (an Accredited Samaritan Center) of Wichita, Kansas; Dr. Doug Morphis, Executive Director of the center, serves as the specialization coordinator.
Beyond the required course work in this specialization, students have the opportunity to fulfill some of the requirements for licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist in the state of Kansas and for membership in the AAPC in the third and fourth years of study. These additional courses are available to qualified students for an additional fee.

For more information about the Center and its work, contact: The Counseling and Mediation Center, Inc. Doug Morphis, DMin, Executive Director, 200 W. Douglas #560, Wichita, Kansas 67202; Phone: 316-269-2322.

Pastoral Leadership in Homiletics

This specialization is designed to enable pastors to gain greater clarity in preaching as a major function of congregational leadership and to develop their preaching gifts and abilities in service to the proclamation of God’s work in the world. The specialization coordinator is Dr. Richard F. Ward, Fred B. Craddock Associate Professor of Homiletics and Worship. In addition to the Foundation and Project phase courses listed above, students in this track will enroll in three required courses and one elective arranged by the student, the specialization coordinator and the DMin director. These required courses of the Specialization phase are normally taught during the DMin Fortnights. For course descriptions see “Doctor of Ministry Program: Courses of Instruction” at the back of this catalog.

Pastoral Leadership in Church and Society

In this specialization ministers will be offered opportunities to reflect on theoretical and theological themes as they relate to significant cultural issues like gender, race, and interfaith relations and to develop community organizing skills for leading churches and their institutions toward social transformation. A key component of this track will be at least one national or international immersion experience led by a member of the PTS faculty. The specialization coordinator is Dr. Joe Bessler, Robert Travis Peake Associate Professor of Theology. In addition to the Foundation and Project phase courses listed above, students in the Specialization phase will enroll in two required courses taught during a DMin Fortnight, a required immersion experience (normally taught during a DMin Fortnight, and one elective arranged by the student, the lead professor and the DMin director. For course descriptions see “Doctor of Ministry Program: Courses of Instruction” at the back of this catalog.

Pastoral Leadership in Spiritual Formation

In the “Pastoral Leadership in Spiritual Formation” (PLSF) specialization, spiritual formation is understood as the intentional activity of attending, discerning, and responding to the initiative of God in ways accountable to Christian communities, scriptures, and traditions. Students will retrieve, re-imagine, and critically re-appropriate Christian spiritual traditions and practices as resources for leading various communities that participate in the praxis of God in the world. The curriculum is designed for pastoral leaders who want to integrate critical reflection with spiritual practice through a holistic lens, honoring the rich complexity of human ways of knowing and relating to the divine. Students will participate in an ongoing conversation among experience, Christian spiritual traditions and diverse cultures which leads to reflective action. Dr. Sandra Costen Kunz, Assistant Professor of Educational Ministries, is the specialization coordinator.

In addition to regular coursework, students will be required to participate throughout the Specialization phase in an ongoing “rule of life” which they write for themselves in the first Specialization course. They will also be required to select and engage in a continuing relationship with a spiritual director/friend/companion. The fulfillment of these requirements will be transcribed as a series of non-credit, non-tuition courses. The fulfillment of the requirements will be monitored through self-reporting procedures.
ACADEMIC POLICIES

The following academic policies are relevant to all students enrolled in master’s level programs. They also apply to DMin students unless stated otherwise. Although academic advisers seek to provide appropriate counsel, ultimately students are responsible for knowing degree requirements and policies and for all academic decisions that they make.

The Academic Year

The academic year for PTS is comprised of two semesters and a summer term. The first semester is scheduled from late August to mid-December. The second semester begins with a Concentrated Course Week in January and ends in mid-May, at which time the annual commencement exercises are held. D.Min Fortnights are scheduled in January and June.

The summer term is divided into two modules. The first module is scheduled from late May through June, the second from July to early August. Because summer courses focus all class contact hours in a one or two-week period, faculty will normally expect students to begin reading and working on assignments at least three weeks before the first class session. Therefore, students are responsible for obtaining the syllabus and all necessary books and materials and preparing in advance. Instructors will normally expect students to complete final research and writing assignments after the last class session and by a mid-August deadline for both modules.

Orientation programs, mandatory for all master’s level students, precede fall and spring registrations. The orientation program is available both on-campus and online. The purpose of the session is to acquaint the students with the faculty, curriculum, and community life of PTS. DMin Fortnights in January and June include orientation sessions for entering doctoral students.

During each fall and spring semester, at least one Reading Week is provided to facilitate independent study and research. Regular classes do not meet during this week. Normally, each semester also includes a week reserved for concentrated courses.

A two-week registration period is scheduled each fall (for the spring semester) and each spring (for the summer term and fall semester). Students continuing in program must consult with their academic advisers and register.

Program Duration and Course Load

A student may only be enrolled in a single PTS academic program at any given time.

In so far as The Association of Theological Schools (ATS) judges full-time equivalency as 12 hours per semester, PTS interprets one year to equal 24 hours.

The CGTS program may be completed within 1 academic year. It must be completed within 6 years from the time the student matriculates.

The MTS and MAMC programs may be completed within 2 academic years. They must be completed within 5 years from the time the student matriculates. In exceptional circumstances, students may complete the program after 5 years, providing that a specific degree plan has been approved by the dean.
The MDiv program may be completed within 3 academic years. It must be completed within 8 years from the time the student matriculates. In exceptional circumstances, students may complete the program after 8 years, providing that a specific degree plan has been approved by the dean.

The recommended course load for a three-year MDiv program is 12 hours per semester plus summer courses. Students on probation are limited to 9 hours.

A master’s level student who projects an enrollment of more than 15 semester-hours in any semester, or more than 6 semester-hours in the summer term, must receive prior approval from his or her adviser, the director of supervised ministries, if taking a supervised ministries course, and the academic dean.

A full-time master’s student is one who is enrolled for 9 semester-hours or more in a semester. A part-time student is one who is enrolled for fewer than 9 semester-hours. Three semester-hours in the summer is considered full-time enrollment. Part-time students are eligible to apply for most fellowships and grants-in-aid.

A master’s level student with a pastorate or other employment requiring more than 22 hours of work and travel per week should not plan to enroll in more than 10 hours per semester.

DMin students should expect to spend approximately four years to complete the program and no more than six years.

In all cases, courses contributing to a master’s or doctoral degree cannot be more than 10 years old.

Residency Requirements

Basic residency requirement for all students in all master’s degree programs: Students in any master’s degree program at Phillips Theological Seminary must complete a minimum of 24 semester hours of on-campus courses as part of their program in order to graduate.

Students transferring into the MDiv program, must complete either the last 30 semester hours with PTS faculty or 45 of the last 60 semester hours, and meet the basic requirement of taking 24 semester hours on campus; if transferring into the MTS or MAMC program, must complete either the last 24 hours with PTS faculty or 30 of the last 36 semester hours, and meet the basic requirement of taking 24 semester hours on campus.

Exceptions involved in meeting special denominational requirements will be considered on an individual basis.

Since Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is not a PTS-administered program and requires a student petition for advanced standing with credit, CPE cannot contribute toward residency requirements.

Limited Enrollment Courses

Some courses have limited enrollment. Students enrolled in certificate or degree programs have priority over Special Students and Auditors. In addition, certificate or degree-seeking students who will not have other opportunities to take courses that meet specific requirements before their anticipated date of graduation will be given enrollment priority if they register during the first scheduled registration period for the relevant semester.
Academic Policies

Bypass of a Required Course

An approved course bypass carries no credit, but permits a student with previous education in a particular area to fulfill a basic requirement in that area by completing a substitute course at a more advanced level. A student must obtain the approval of the instructor of the required course, his or her adviser, and the dean. Forms are available from the registrar’s office.

Waiver of Course Prerequisite

In exceptional cases, a student may be permitted to take a course for credit without having previously satisfied the published prerequisite. Such a waiver does not exempt the student from taking the prerequisite course either concurrently with the advanced course or in a subsequent semester. In all cases, the student must obtain the approval of the instructor, his or her adviser, and the dean. Forms are available from the registrar’s office.

Incompletes and Extensions

An incomplete may be granted for extenuating circumstances, but the approval is not automatic and must be justified. Approval must be requested on required forms and granted prior to the announced deadline, normally the Friday prior to the last week of classes. Extensions may be granted for a maximum of 45 days from the last official day of classes. Only in unusual circumstances will a second extension be considered. Work not submitted to the instructor by the deadline will receive the grade of "F."

Attendance Policy

Class attendance and participation are important. All persons in the community are teachers and learners. Any student who misses 20% or more of the class contact hours for a course, for any reason, cannot pass or successfully audit that course. The intention of the policy is not to be punitive, but to recognize that students should retake courses for credit if they miss a significant number of the class contact hours.

The 20% rule, noted above, holds for online classes as well. In an online class, the instructor will set forth in the syllabus the requirements for what constitutes class attendance. The standard may change from week to week depending on the assignment. Typically, attendance is measured by posts-per-week on the discussion board or other activities. The instructor sets the minimum number of posts-per-week required for a student to be considered present. If a student fails to make that minimum number of posts-per-week, s/he will be considered absent for the week. If a student is absent for more than 20% of the semester, s/he cannot pass the course.

Internet Access and Email Requirement

All students will be assigned a PTS Email account in order to facilitate seminary communication. Accordingly, students will want to check their mailboxes regularly. When on campus students are able to access the Internet on equipment in the computer lab as well as Wi-Fi throughout the building. However, it is highly recommended that students have access to computers and high speed broadband connections at home, especially if they plan to register for online courses.
Seminary Student Directory

Each semester, PTS provides members of the seminary community a copy of a student directory. Students may consult the Student Handbook for details concerning FERPA regulations and directory information.

Adding and Dropping Classes

Forms for adding and dropping courses are available in the registrar's office or on the PTS website: http://www.ptstulsa.edu.

A student may not add a course beyond the first week of a fall or spring semester, regardless of course schedule configuration (e.g., weekly, weekend, concentrated, arranged, online). In a January term, courses must be added at least three weeks prior to the beginning of the term, or in a summer term, at least three weeks prior to the beginning of the module in which the course is offered.

The policy on dropping courses is as follows:

- During the first three weeks of a fall or spring semester, or within the first 7 class contact hours in a January or summer term: courses may be dropped for any reason. No record appears on the transcript.
- In the fourth through the eighth week of a fall or spring semester, or between 7 and 14 class contact hours in a January or summer term: courses may be dropped for any reason. The dropped courses will be listed on the transcript with a “WD” indicating withdrawal.
- After the eighth week of a fall or spring semester, or after 14 class contact hours in a January or summer term: courses may be dropped with a grade of “WD” only for verified extenuating circumstances of a non-academic nature. A written petition, explaining the extenuating circumstances, must be presented to the dean. If that petition is granted, a “WD” will appear on the transcript. If the petition is not granted, the dean will notify both the student and the course instructor of the decision. The course instructor will assess the student's performance up to the date of the student's withdrawal and a grade will be issued and will appear on the transcript. Students may appeal a negative decision by the dean to the Master's Committee.

The policies for adding and dropping courses in a fall or spring semester apply equally to master’s level students enrolled in all courses regardless of schedule configuration (e.g., weekly, weekend, concentrated, arranged, online).

Because seminary courses that convene on several weekends during the semester or during a concentrated course week focus all class contact hours in a limited period of time, faculty will expect students to begin reading and working on assignments prior to the first class session. Normally, they will also expect students to complete research and writing assignments after the date of the last class session. In other words, despite the concentrated schedule for class meetings, such seminary courses should be understood to require academic work throughout the entire semester. It is the responsibility of all students who register for such courses to contact the dean’s office by the first day of the fall or spring semesters (or at least three weeks before the first class session of a January or summer term course) to obtain a course syllabus, which will specify assignments that must be completed prior to the first class session.

Withdrawing from the Seminary

All students, including auditors, who wish to withdraw from all of the seminary courses for which they are registered must complete the appropriate forms in the Office of the Registrar. They may also be required to have an exit interview with the director of student financial aid.
Grading and Credit

The unit of credit is the semester-hour, and all semester-hours of study will be assigned a grade by the course instructor. Except for credit hours completed in courses graded on a pass/fail basis, only those hours for which a grade of D- or better is received will count for credit toward the total hours required for all degrees.

Grade point averages are computed on the following basis and according to the indicated grade points per semester-hour:

- A (Excellent; 4 grade points)
- A- (earns 3.7 grade points)
- B+ (earns 3.3 grade points)
- B (Good; earns 3 grade points)
- B- (earns 2.7 grade points)
- C+ (earns 2.3 grade points)
- C (Marginal; earns 2 grade points)
- C- (earns 1.7 grade points)
- D+ (earns 1.3 grade points)
- D (Poor; earns 1 grade point)
- D- (earns 0.7 grade points)
- F (Failure; earns no grade points, but is computed in the grade point average)
- P (Passing work, evaluated as B- or better, that counts as credit toward a degree, but does not compute in the grade point average)
- PD (Pass with distinction)
- I (Incomplete work)
- WD (Withdrawal from a course that does not compute in the GPA)
- AU (indicates satisfactory attendance by an auditor)
- U (indicates unsatisfactory attendance by an auditor or unsatisfactory progress in a master’s thesis course)
- S (indicates satisfactory progress in a master’s thesis course or in a DMin project course)

To calculate a grade point average, the total grade points are divided by the total semester-hours of coursework. A final cumulative grade point average of at least 2.25 is required for a certificate in graduate theological studies or any master’s degree.

If a course is retaken by a student, both grades will be recorded on the student’s transcript. However, only the higher grade will be used in calculating the student’s grade point average. The course hours are counted only once.

In any course designated as pass/fail, a pass (P) means a grade of B- or better.

In the DMin program, C- is the lowest passing grade a student may earn. D+, D, and D- grades are not used in doctoral courses. DMin project reports may be accepted with a P (pass) or PD (pass with distinction); if not accepted, they may receive an S (satisfactory progress) or F (failure).

Student Portfolio

In order to evaluate students’ learning and to improve teaching effectiveness, the PTS faculty has adopted a portfolio strategy. All MDiv, MTS, and MAMC students are required to keep a portfolio of their academic work and to reflect periodically with faculty advisers on their progress in theological education and spiritual formation.
This pedagogical strategy is specifically designed for the seminary community. It is not intended to provide materials for review by ecclesiastical bodies assessing fitness for ordination and ministerial service. Because student expectations of church review could negatively affect its pedagogical usefulness, the seminary faculty has respectfully requested that denominational and congregational representatives not require students to submit portfolio materials.

Students who fail to meet with their advisers for required reviews may not be able to register for further coursework. Those who for any reason are unable to produce their portfolios for the scheduled review sessions with their advisers will be required to submit equivalent academic materials and follow special procedures determined by the Master’s Committee and the dean. Program and graduation delays may be experienced as a result.

Students transferring in 30 hours or fewer will be expected to meet the portfolio requirements with relevant course materials from transferred courses. Students transferring in more than 30 hours may satisfy the requirements by placing in their portfolio their admissions essay and keeping appropriate items for the PTS part of their academic degree programs.

Academic Probation and Dismissal

Master’s level students are placed on academic probation when their cumulative grade point average falls below 2.25. Students on academic probation are limited to an enrollment of 9 semester-hours, excluding enrollment in PT 649: Worship Practicum, CD 610: Seminars in Spirituality, CD 501: Orientation to Theological Research, and approved supervised ministry courses.

Students whose cumulative grade point average remains below 2.25 for two consecutive semesters are subject to suspension from the seminary for one calendar year. Students suspended under this policy must reapply for admission at least one month prior to the semester in which they hope to resume their degree programs.

Students may remain on academic probation for a maximum of three semesters (including non-consecutive semesters but not counting summer terms). Those not eligible for removal from academic probation at the end of their third semester are subject to permanent dismissal from the seminary.

DMin students should consult the DMin Handbook for relevant regulations concerning academic probation, suspension, and dismissal.

Academic Misconduct

Integrity is a fundamental principle of academic life. Those who have the privilege of being members of the Phillips Theological Seminary community have an obligation to observe the highest standards of honesty, as well as a right to expect the same standards of all others. Academic misconduct is contrary to the purposes and functions of the seminary.

Academic misconduct includes such unacceptable behavior as false representations in application materials or other reports, plagiarism, falsification of records, unauthorized possession of examinations, intimidation, bribery, submitting a paper twice, and cheating. It also includes assisting others in the acts mentioned above, as well as attempts to engage in such acts.

Plagiarism is an attempt to claim ideas or writings, which belong to another as one’s own. Paraphrasing or even extensive rewriting of another’s work does not eliminate the need to give appropriate credit. Any time an expression or idea is borrowed, appropriate credit must be given. In formal papers, quoted material must be documented as such and all sources must be cited. Cheating includes using unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic examination or exercise. Submitting a paper for more than one class will not be allowed, unless special permission is secured from both professors. Any paper, or major part thereof, or other work turned in for two courses will not meet the requirements and will result in a "0" (F) for that assignment in either or both courses.

Penalties for Academic Misconduct

Procedures for handling charges of academic misconduct are detailed in the Student Handbook. The penalty for those found guilty of academic misconduct, regardless of when that judgment is rendered, shall range from a grade of "F" on the examination or academic exercise in question, to a grade of "F" in the relevant course, suspension from the seminary, permanent dismissal, or degree revocation. Any second conviction of academic misconduct mandates at least a suspension from the seminary for one calendar year. Records of convictions will be maintained in the student’s academic file. These records will be purged when the student graduates or has not been enrolled in the seminary for a period of ten years.

A student who is convicted of academic misconduct, including plagiarism, in the production of a major research project or thesis (i.e., an MDiv or MTS Thesis, MTS Integrative Paper, or DMin Project) will have his or her coursework terminated and will be permanently dismissed. If the degree has been granted before the misconduct is discovered, the degree will be revoked. Results of these actions become a part of the permanent record.

Safe Space and Professional Behavior

All those engaged in teaching and learning in the Phillips Theological Seminary community deserve respect and safe space as they participate in critical theological reflection and ecumenical conversation on the range of issues enlivening contemporary discernment and debate within the church and the broader society. Among the critical dynamics of this collegial respect and safe space is the maintaining of confidences, which is understood as a primary ministerial skill. Personal integrity and professional behavior are expected in all of the seminary’s teaching and learning functions and apply equally to both on campus and online courses.

Netiquette

Participants in the online discussions do not have available the same visual and auditory clues as those in traditional classrooms for interpreting the tone and substance of contributed comments. It is, therefore, especially important that the following guidelines concerning appropriate “netiquette”—i.e., etiquette for written communication shared via the internet—should be consistently observed.

Individual professors may have procedures regarding class etiquette which are specific to course design and learning goals in addition to the following institutional standards. Students should pay attention to each course syllabus for the particular as well as the general standards. In all cases, how the standards are applied in any given course is at the discretion of the instructor.

1. While in online discussion, statements of disagreement and alternate understandings are welcomed, and even encouraged among participants, disparaging personal ad hominem attacks cannot be permitted, even if purported to be intended light-heartedly. Overt references or those by innuendo that violate the seminary’s anti-discrimination policy will not be tolerated.
2. Rude, offensive, or abusive comments are entirely in appropriate. “Flaming” (typing words in capitals) or an excessive use of exclamation marks must always be avoided because they are widely understood to signal expressions of anger, hostility, or disrespect.
3. Attempts to use humor, and especially sarcasm, to advance one’s position in online discussions are most generally confusing and ineffectual. In addition, the seeming innocence of jokes can be lost in transmission.
4. Participants should be attentive to maintaining a professional style of communication. Posted contributions on discussion boards should be free of misspelled words and other distracting technical errors. And as with written papers, it is essential to properly cite sources.

5. There are different modes of communication for online classes, e.g. discussion boards and chat rooms—formal and informal—where the standards may be nuanced accordingly to fit the class situation. However, when communicating online, participants should carefully review what they have written before they actually send or post it, making certain that chosen modes of expression convey what they want to say and how they want to say it.

6. Finally, members of the seminary community are to avoid forwarding any type of junk mail (e.g. advertisements, solicitations, or sexually explicit materials) to others. Moreover, they should not violate the privacy of others by divulging email address and comments outside of the class without express permission.

Class Nomenclature

At the beginning of each academic year, master's level students will be classified according to the number of credit hours completed.

MDiv: Juniors are students who have completed less than 24 credit hours; Middlers, between 24 and 57 credit hours; Seniors, more than 57 credit hours.

MTS: Juniors are students who have completed less than 15 credit hours; Middlers, between 15 and 30 credit hours; Seniors, more than 37 credit hours.

MAMC: Juniors are students who have completed less than 15 credit hours; Middlers, between 15 and 30 credit hours; Seniors, more than 37 credit hours.

Commencement

Students may elect to graduate under the terms of degree requirements in a given catalog adopted by the seminary after their first enrollment. Only students who have completed all requirements for graduation will be allowed to participate in the annual commencement exercises at the end of the spring semester and to have their degrees conferred at that time.

Students who complete graduation requirements at another time may elect to have their degrees conferred, without commencement exercises, on August 31 or December 31 of each year. In order to have a degree conferred on one of these dates, a student must: (a) make application for conferral of the degree, and pay the diploma fee, at least one month in advance of the requested date, and (b) complete all graduation requirements prior to that date. Students who exercise the option to have a degree conferred on August 31 or December 31 retain the option of participating in the next commencement exercise.

Complaints

A student who wishes to make a formal complaint concerning a member of the faculty or staff who, in his or her judgment, has not followed a published academic policy or procedure of the seminary, should contact the vice president for academic affairs and dean. If the complaint concerns the vice president for academic affairs and dean, the student should contact the executive vice president.

Sexual Harassment

It is the policy of Phillips Theological Seminary that no member of the academic community may sexually harass another. Sexual harassment is any attempt to coerce an unwilling person into a sexual relationship, to subject a person to unwanted sexual attention or to punish a refusal to comply, or to subject a person to unwanted sexual attention as a condition of employment, compensation, promotion, or grades. Sexual harassment is also creating a hostile environment through the use of offensive or demeaning language, signs, jokes, or pranks. Students should consult the Student Handbook for appropriate procedures for considering complaints.

Substance Abuse

The Board of Trustees of Phillips Theological Seminary adopted the following statement on September 18, 1990.
“The unlawful possession, use or distribution of drugs or alcohol, on seminary property or as part of any seminary activity, is not allowed. Throughout this statement and related policy, a ‘drug’ includes all controlled substances (as defined in the Controlled Substances Act, as amended from time to time, of the United States), and includes without limitation cocaine, crack, marijuana, heroin, amphetamines, barbiturates, and all other controlled substances. ‘Alcohol’ means any alcoholic beverage (whether or not it contains more or less than 3.2% of alcohol by weight) which is regulated by Oklahoma law.”

Constitution Day Policy

On May 24, 2005, the U.S. Department of Education released a Notice of Implementation, announcing that all educational institutions receiving federal funding must provide an educational program pertaining to the United States Constitution on September 17 of each year.

As noted in Section 11(b) of the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2005, “Constitution Day” must be recognized on September 17 in commemoration of the signing of the Constitution of the United States of America on September 17, 1787. Therefore, Phillips Theological Seminary in compliance with the U.S. Department of Education will participate in the designated day of September 17 as “Constitution Day.” The Office of Student Financial Aid will organize this annual event.

Student Records and Directory Information

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Phillips Theological Seminary has a policy regarding the availability of student records and the release of personal information in the seminary student directory. A copy of this policy is printed in the Student Handbook which can be found on the seminary website at www.ptstulsa.edu.

CGTS and Master’s Degree Programs

Pre-seminary Studies

Academic preparation is an important determinant of a student’s success in seminary. Students contemplating study at Phillips Theological Seminary should contact the Office of Admissions at the earliest opportunity. Denominational requirements for specific aspects of pre-seminary preparation can vary. Prospective students hoping to prepare for ordained ministry should discuss their sense of vocation and decision to attend seminary with appropriate authorities in their churches and denominations.

Admission to or graduation from Phillips Theological Seminary does not guarantee ordination, ministerial standing, or employment by any religious body. The seminary is concerned with formative education for Christian ministry. However, churches and denominations retain the exclusive right and responsibility to determine the appropriate qualifications for ordained and licensed ministry, to assess the fitness for ministry of individual candidates, and to credential persons for ministerial leadership.

Since liberal arts provide a solid preparation for theological study, Phillips Theological Seminary recommends that pre-seminary education include several of the following subjects:

- English composition, language, and literature;
- history, non-Western as well as European and American;
- philosophy, particularly its history and methods;
- natural sciences, both the physical and life sciences;
- social sciences (e.g., psychology, sociology, anthropology);
- fine arts (e.g., theater, music appreciation, art history);
• languages, biblical and modern;
• religious studies, both of Western and Eastern traditions.

Demonstrated competence in other areas, such as business management, science, and law can also be valuable assets for seminary.

Requirements

The basic requirement for admission to the certificate program and all master’s degree programs is a baccalaureate degree from an institution accredited by an agency recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation or holding membership in the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada, or the educational equivalent of the baccalaureate degree. A student with a baccalaureate degree from a non-accredited institution may be eligible for admission on academic probation if other supporting documents indicate a strong likelihood for success in seminary and an aptitude for a church vocation.

The undergraduate grade average must be 2.5 (i.e., B-) or better, unless significant compensating qualities justify admission on academic probation. At the discretion of the admissions committee, academic probation may be waived for students with an undergraduate G.P.A. below 2.5 who present evidence of substantial graduate work with a G.P.A. above 2.5.

In exceptional circumstances, applicants over 40 years of age without a completed baccalaureate degree may be considered for probationary admission to a graduate program if they:
  a. have completed a minimum of 60 semester-hours toward a baccalaureate degree with a cumulative grade point average of 2.7 or above;
  b. present evidence of significant leadership in church and society;
  c. have an unqualified endorsement from their denomination;
  d. visit campus for a personal interview by the admissions committee;
  e. successfully complete a test of writing ability and other tests as required.

If students who lack the baccalaureate degree or its equivalent are admitted to graduate courses, the number of such students in any course or class is limited to 10 percent or fewer of that course’s enrollees. Within this limitation, all students in a class are included, whether registered for credit or as auditors.

If the applicant’s native language is not English, the student must submit a minimum test score of 550 (paper-based) or 213 (computer-based) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

Criminal Background Checks

As an expression of Phillips Theological Seminary’s commitment to the safety and well-being of our learning community and of the congregations and other institutions that our students serve, the seminary now requires criminal background checks for all students, including auditors, special, certificate, and degree program students.

Enrollment in PTS courses is contingent on (a) the applicant’s or student’s authorization of a background check, conducted by a consumer reporting agency under contract with the seminary, and (b) the subsequent determination by the seminary that no cause for denying admission, rescinding an offer of admission, suspending enrollment, or dismissal is indicated. If an external background check raises concerns with regard to a student’s criminal record, a Review Committee will be convened and the applicant or student will have an opportunity to review and respond to the report.

The Review Committee—comprised of the dean, the associate dean for contextual education and church relations, the associate dean for admissions and student services, and one regular faculty member selected by the dean (if possible, the director of ministerial formation of the relevant denomination)—will consider reported criminal activity in relation to the individual's fitness for leadership in various forms of ministry in church and society and his or her ability to both benefit from and contribute to the seminary's community life and graduate professional programs.

A formal consideration by the Review Committee will conclude with a written decision that includes information on the criminal activity reported, the judgment process undertaken, and the bases for the decision. An applicant or student may appeal an adverse decision of the Review Committee to the president of PTS, whose judgment is final.

The fee for the one-time background check is $35 and is included in the application fee for entering students. Students who suspend their programs of study and must formally reapply for admission may be required to pay for an updated background check.

Transfer Students

Students transferring from another theological seminary should follow the same application procedures as other applicants.

General rules pertaining to transfer credits are as follows:

a. Application for transfer credit for previous graduate level studies should be made during the first year of coursework at Phillips Theological Seminary or at least one month before matriculation if previous coursework affects class selections for the first semester.

b. Final determination of all transferred credit will be made by the dean. No final transfer actions will be made until all official transcripts are received. Additional materials, such as course descriptions from catalogs and syllabi may be requested. A personal interview may also be required.

c. Normally, work must have been undertaken at a school accredited by The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada and a recognized regional accrediting agency.

d. Courses must be compatible with the PTS curriculum and have been completed no more than 10 years prior to matriculation at PTS.

e. Should a transfer student drop out of PTS for two or more consecutive semesters (not counting summers), or drop to a part-time student schedule, courses previously accepted for transfer credit may be reconsidered in relation to current program duration or curricular policies.

f. The student must have received a grade of B- or higher for a course to be considered for transfer credit.

g. A maximum of 57 semester-hours may be transferred for the MDiv degree; 22 hours for an MTS or MAMC degree. Credit cannot be transferred to the Certificate in Graduate Theological Studies program.

h. A maximum of 22 semester-hours of online coursework may be transferred to an MTS or MAMC degree program. A maximum of 42 semester-hours of online coursework may be transferred to the MDiv degree program. Students who petition for transfer credit must identify which of their courses, if any, were taken online, which permits PTS to remain in compliance with relevant accreditation standards.

i. Students may not transfer credit for coursework taken after admission to PTS unless prior approval is granted by the dean. Normally, approval is not granted for required courses regularly offered by PTS. In all cases, residency requirements must be met.

j. Students with a baccalaureate degree who have completed the Education for Lay Ministry (ELM) program prior to matriculation at PTS may be granted a maximum of 6 semester-hours of elective credit toward the MDiv or MAMC degree programs.

In addition to the regulations above, the following policies apply to specific types of transfer credit.
a. Graduate theological study for which a degree has already been awarded may be considered for transfer credit not to exceed half the hours of the completed degree program, and in no case more than 30 hours for the MDiv or 22 hours for the MTS and MAMC degree programs. Program compatibility is required.
b. Students who petition for a transfer of credits to the MTS and MAMC programs must clearly show how the hours under consideration contribute to their vocational aspirations and academic plans. Moreover, they must meet with an adviser prior to requesting transfer evaluation in order to consider these compatibility issues.
c. Non-seminary graduate study in religion at a regionally accredited school may be eligible for transfer credit subject to its compatibility with the seminary curriculum.
d. Coursework completed at the graduate level in areas other than religion and ministry must have been taken at an accredited school or institution. Normally, a maximum of 9 semester-hours is eligible for transfer credit to the MDiv and 6 semester-hours to the MTS or MAMC degree programs. As in all other transfer cases, curricular compatibility must be demonstrated.

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing is the category used for recognizing previous graduate level work for which there is no academic transcript. Advanced standing can be given with or without credit. Advanced standing without credit allows a student to bypass required classes but does not reduce the number of semester-hours of academic work the student must complete at PTS. Advanced standing will be considered for only the following two categories of educational experiences:

a. Clinical Pastoral Education at an appropriately accredited center;
b. Graduate level coursework at accredited institutions of higher education whose transcripts do not record graded participation and/or achievement. In such cases, a student may apply for advanced standing for particular courses by presenting evidence s/he has met the learning requirements of a compatible PTS course. Examples of such evidence may include exams, major papers, detailed correspondence from the student’s course professor, etc. In all cases, request for advanced standing must be submitted to the dean in writing and should describe the evidence to be provided for consideration. A maximum of 14 semester-hours of advanced standing with credit is available in the MDiv program and a maximum of 6 semester-hours is available in the MTS or MAMC programs.

International Students

Phillips Theological Seminary is authorized under federal law to enroll international students. Application for admission should be initiated at least six months prior to intended enrollment. The following information is required of all international applicants:

a. a completed application form and required letters of reference. References must include one of the following organizations: World Council of Churches; World Alliance of Reformed Churches; Churches of Christ Theological College; United Methodist Board for Global Ministries; The Common Global Ministries Board of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and the United Church of Christ; or an ecumenical partner church of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) or United Church of Christ in the prospective student’s country;
b. official transcripts of all previous college, university, and graduate work (the student will receive forms for having these evaluated and information on the cost of such evaluation);
c. official results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) with a minimum score of 550 (paper-based) or 213 (computer-based); and,
d. a certified financial statement, confirmed by one of the agencies listed above, documenting adequate financial support for living expenses during the applicant’s anticipated period of residence in the United States. These expenses would include, but not necessarily be limited to: housing, food, tuition (not covered by tuition assistance), fees, books, health insurance
Admissions

Premiums (since all international students must be enrolled in a health insurance plan while they are in the U.S.), and round-trip travel.

e. Admission to Phillips Theological Seminary must be confirmed before an I-20 form for an F-1 student visa can be certified. Applicants should understand that a student visa normally does not allow international students to work while studying in the United States.

Before arrival in the U.S., international students must deposit enough money for return travel in a special account to be used only for that purpose.

Readmission

Students who have dropped out for only one semester (not counting summer) need only to enroll. Students who drop out for two or more consecutive semesters (not counting summer), but less than three years, may apply for readmission by completing the proper form available from the Office of Admissions. No matriculation fee will be required. Students who have been out of Phillips Theological Seminary for three or more years must follow the same application procedures followed by new students and must pay a matriculation fee. Students applying for readmission may be required to pay for an updated background check.

Special Students

Applicants may be admitted as Special Students for study at Phillips Theological Seminary for one year at a time without being candidates in a certificate or degree program. Although basic admission requirements for Special Students are the same as for applicants seeking admission to a certificate or degree program, the application process is abbreviated. Special Student applications are available upon request from the Office of Admissions or on the PTS website.

Students are required to have and maintain an email account in order to facilitate communication and to access course information and assignments via the Internet. Changes in contact information should be reported immediately to the Office of the Registrar.

Audit Students

Some seminary courses may be audited with permission of the instructor and the dean, depending on the nature of the course and the size of the class. Normally auditors are not permitted in language, workshop, and other performance-related courses for which enrollment as a Special Student is more appropriate. In no case will auditors constitute more than 20% of the total enrollment in a course.

Individuals interested in auditing who are not currently enrolled in a degree program at PTS should first contact the Office of Admissions. There is a one-time $60 non-refundable application fee, which includes the cost of a required criminal background check. Students already enrolled in seminary programs should first seek permission from the course instructor before applying to audit. All necessary arrangements must be completed prior to the semester’s first day of class and in all cases before class attendance.

The audit fee, reduced for the 2010-2011 academic year, is $60 per credit hour. Auditors pay no matriculation, community life, technology, or general student fees.

In accord with the seminary’s attendance policy, auditors who miss 20% or more of the class sessions in any course for which they are registered will have a “U” (Unsatisfactory) recorded on their PTS transcripts rather than “AU” (Audit). Petitions to withdraw from a course should be directed to the Office of the Registrar.
Auditors are expected to complete all reading assignments. Instructors will determine the appropriate level of auditors’ class participation. Instructors will not be expected to evaluate auditors’ papers or other assignments but may write a letter of evaluation as requested by their denomination.

In exceptional circumstances, auditors may be allowed to change to credit status. The student should discuss this possibility with the instructor as early as possible, must receive prior approval by the instructor before submitting an application, and must pay all additional tuition and fees. Students who change from audit status to credit status are eligible to apply for financial aid for that course. Acceptance for audit status does not guarantee subsequent acceptance for credit status.

Doctor of Ministry Program

All DMin applicants are required to complete an application form; provide official transcripts for all Master of Divinity work (or of other work, as necessary, to demonstrate MDiv equivalency); submit four letters of reference; write an entrance essay; and pay a non-refundable $60 application fee with the application. In addition, all applicants must undergo a criminal background check (see Admissions procedures above). Unless specified in this section, all Admissions procedures described for Certificate and Master’s programs also apply to the Doctor of Ministry program.

Application and reference forms are available from the Admissions Office or the seminary website: http://www.ptstulsa.edu.

Admission requirements

The requirements for admission to the DMin program are:

a. A Master of Divinity degree or its equivalent from an ATS accredited seminary. By “equivalent” is meant an equal number of credit hours of master’s degree level course work in the same range of theological disciplines covered by MDiv courses in ATS accredited schools. Ministerial experience does not substitute for such academic work.

b. A minimum of three years of full-time ministry experience subsequent to the completion of the Master of Divinity degree, or its equivalent. In exceptional circumstances, applicants who have completed their MDiv degree within the previous three years and have sufficient ministerial experience to prepare them for professional, theological study at an advanced level, may be considered for admission.

c. Students are expected to have at the time of application, and to maintain, an appointment in a ministry setting. Ramifications of a mid-program change in a student's ministry setting must be discussed with the director of the DMin program.

d. Admission to all PTS academic programs, including the DMin program, is contingent on (a) the applicant’s authorization of a criminal background check, conducted by a consumer reporting agency under contract with the Seminary, and (b) the subsequent determination by the Seminary that no cause for denying admission or rescinding an offer of admission is indicated. The fee for the one-time background check is $35 and is included in the application fee. Students who suspend their programs of study and must formally reapply for admission may be required to pay for an updated background check. A more extended description of related procedures is provided earlier in this catalog.

e. Students are required to have and maintain an email account in order to access course information and assignments via the Internet. Changes in contact information should be reported immediately to the Office of the Registrar.

f. An overall minimum G.P.A. of 3.0 on all previous graduate work;

g. For applicants for whom English is a second language, a minimum TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of at least 550 (paper-based test) or 213 (computer-based test).
Applicants to the DMin program must submit their application, including all supporting materials, by March 15 of the year in which the applicant wishes to matriculate.

All applicants should plan on being engaged in ministry while working on the degree. Their applications should reveal their commitment to continuing their ministerial education and their capacity to engage in an academically rigorous and theologically challenging program.

An applicant who has taken post-MDiv work at other institutions may submit a petition with the application requesting consideration of either transfer credit or advanced standing based on the previously completed work.

The Admissions Committee evaluates on a case-by-case basis the compatibility and equivalency of such coursework with that required in the PTS DMin program.

Tuition and fees are due in full at the time of enrollment, although a deferred payment plan may be arranged. The balance must be paid in full during the semester or summer term, according to a specified schedule. Students with delinquent accounts may not enroll. Students will be responsible for any costs incurred by the seminary in collecting delinquent accounts.

Student Housing

For information regarding housing, seminary students should contact the Associate Dean for Admissions and Student Services. While the seminary does not own or operate student housing, inexpensive housing options exist in the Tulsa area for both commuters and residential students.

Military Service Policy

PTS students who must suspend their academic work at the seminary to engage in required military service after having attended more than 75% of the class sessions of courses in which they are currently registered may submit written requests to instructors for grade evaluations, based on assignments completed. Each petition must be accompanied by a copy of the student’s official orders showing the date military service begins. No special fees are required.

Grades will be awarded at the discretion of instructors if there is a sufficient basis for their determination. Instructors shall inform petitioning students in writing of grades to be awarded. In any course in which there are assignments outstanding, students may elect, in light of the proposed grades, to request an “Incomplete” or to withdraw. Students granted “Incompletes” for military service should contact the Office of the Registrar within 60 days of the end of their period of service and must complete all outstanding coursework within six months of that date. Extensions will be granted only in unusual circumstances.

If students choose to withdraw, a “WD” will be recorded on their official transcripts. Students are responsible for filing the appropriate forms with the Office of the Registrar before the end of the semester. For students who withdraw, all current semester tuition and fee charges will be cancelled. If some or all of current charges have already been paid, students will be offered a choice between maintaining a credit for the payments on their accounts and having the full amount of the payments refunded to them. Different policies may apply to payments received from state and federal sources, as per applicable regulation.

Financial Aid (CGTS and Master's Programs)

Introduction and Overview

Through its own budget, Phillips Theological Seminary provides introductory tuition assistance of 50% of tuition, for a limited time, to most new students taking classes for credit. Special Students who are taking a limited number of courses for denominational requirements or for transfer to another seminary and PTS alumni/ae who return to campus to pursue an additional degree or to take additional courses for academic credit are not eligible for the introductory tuition assistance.

Tuition for the Fall 2010 semester is $500 per credit hour. However, new students who are eligible for the introductory tuition assistance will pay 50% of tuition for one calendar year from date of first matriculation.

Through the initial admissions process, a number of 80% and 100% tuition awards and scholarships are available to qualified students based on: the applicant’s essay; previous service to the church; promise for ministry as documented on the application form and references; grade point average; denomination; ethnicity; and financial need, as reflected on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Entering students who meet the criteria are automatically considered for these awards and scholarships provided their complete application for admission and their FAFSA are received at PTS no later than the deadline for those materials. A description of the awards and scholarships and their criteria is included below. For deadlines consult the academic calendar at the end of this catalog.

Federal Stafford student loans are also available to PTS students who take 6 or more hours per semester and meet other federal eligibility requirements. CGTS students and Special Students are not eligible to receive federal Stafford student loans.

Other named and external scholarships may be available through churches, foundations, denominations, and private contributors. A partial listing of some of the possible resources for funds is included below.

Certificate and degree-seeking students who receive the introductory tuition assistance may apply for financial-need-based seminary tuition assistance after the introductory tuition assistance period by completing a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Special students who receive the introductory tuition assistance must be accepted to a certificate or degree program and complete a FAFSA in order to be considered for financial-need-based seminary tuition assistance after the introductory tuition assistance period.

All students who receive a Stafford loan at anytime in their course of study at PTS must complete an exit interview, either online or by filling out a hardcopy form. Students who fail to complete the exit interview in their final semester of studies will not receive a diploma at graduation or be eligible to receive an official transcript.

The Director of Student Financial Aid is available to work directly with new and returning students to develop financial aid plans for the remainder of their academic programs. The financial aid program is monitored by the director of student financial aid in cooperation with the Associate Dean for Admissions and Student Services and the financial aid committee.

PTS Financial Aid Application

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the PTS financial aid application. It is used in determining eligibility for:
- federal Stafford student loans.
- financial-need-based tuition assistance after the introductory tuition assistance period.

Deadlines for FAFSA Submission

All FAFSA applications must be submitted by June 30, 2011 to be used for tuition assistance, scholarship and federal Stafford loan calculations for the 2010-2011 academic year. Apply online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. The seminary will charge a nominal processing fee if submitted after June 30 deadline.

Seminary Tuition Assistance: General Information

Maximum Award

The total seminary tuition assistance awarded to a student in a given semester shall not exceed his or her tuition charges in that semester, except for the Robert T. and Harriet M. Peake Endowed Scholarship and the Matthew A. Thompson Fellowship for Student Leaders, both of which include fees and a book allowance.
Requirements for Maintaining Tuition Assistance

Seminary tuition assistance provided by PTS, whether in the form of an award, a scholarship, or financial-need-based tuition assistance, is renewable each year provided the student:

• continues to meet the specific criteria for her/his award or scholarship as listed in the catalog;
• writes a thank-you letter to the donor(s) designated in the student’s annual financial aid award letter by the deadline specified in that letter;
• maintains satisfactory academic progress. (At the end of each semester, each student’s cumulative GPA will be computed. Students whose cumulative GPA falls below 2.25 will be placed on academic probation. Students may continue to receive seminary tuition assistance while on academic probation for up to two consecutive semesters. Those still on probation at the end of two consecutive semesters will lose eligibility for seminary tuition assistance until such time as they are removed from academic probation.)
• complies with the verification processes of the Federal Student Aid Program. (Each year the federal government randomly selects FAFSA forms for audit. If a student’s form is selected, the PTS Director of Student Financial Aid will notify the student of the deadline for submitting all required information for review. If the student fails to meet the deadline, s/he will lose her or his good standing at PTS. Payments from the Stafford loan program and all forms of seminary tuition assistance will be immediately suspended.)

Financial Aid Leave of Absence

If unforeseen circumstances, such as illness or change in ministry setting compel a student to temporarily withdraw from PTS, she or he may apply for a financial aid leave of absence which will freeze her or his seminary tuition assistance. A student may request a financial aid leave of absence for up to one year by writing a letter to the Financial Aid Committee in care of the Director of Student Financial Aid. The Financial Aid Committee will then consider the request and the student will be notified in writing of the Committee’s decision.

If the leave is granted and the student subsequently wishes to extend the leave beyond the time originally granted as a result of the first petition, a new petition must be submitted. A total of one year of approved financial aid leave of absence will not count toward the student’s allowed years of seminary tuition assistance. The time limit for seminary tuition assistance for the student’s particular degree program will be extended by the same number of semesters (up to one year) of the student’s financial aid leave of absence.

Seminary tuition assistance will be frozen during the time the student is on approved financial aid leave of absence. Accordingly, the student will return at the same level of seminary tuition assistance that would have been expected had there been no leave time.

Number of Hours Allowed

Seminary tuition assistance is normally granted for the total number of credit hours required in the academic program in which a student is enrolled, plus 3 additional hours. When a student receives a grade of “F” in a course, any seminary tuition assistance granted for that course must be returned to the seminary. The amount of tuition assistance given for that course will be posted to the student’s account for the term in which the student is next enrolled and must be paid according to the financial agreements for that term.

Students may receive one WD without seminary tuition assistance consequences. Credit hours taken beyond the allowable number of hours of seminary tuition assistance will be billed at the full tuition rate.
Types of Seminary Tuition Assistance

80% and 100% Tuition Awards and Scholarships

Through the initial admissions process, a number of 80% and 100% tuition awards and scholarships are available to qualified students based on: the applicant’s essay; previous service to the church; promise for ministry as documented on the application form and references; grade point average; denomination; ethnicity; and financial need, as reflected on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Criteria unique to particular awards or scholarships are indicated below.

One hundred percent tuition awards and scholarships require enrollment in and completion of a minimum of 6 credit hours per semester, excluding summer and hours for which tuition is not charged. Eighty percent tuition awards and scholarships are not subject to the credit-hour minimum.

All 80% and 100% tuition awards and scholarships are generally renewable for the entire time the recipient is in seminary. The actual number of hours of tuition assistance and the number of years for which it is available are subject to seminary policy as stated in this catalog.

Presidents’ Awards

The Presidents’ Award is a 100% tuition award given to persons who are studying for Christian ministry. Up to two awards per year may be given to (a) outstanding members of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) who are recent graduates from Disciples-related undergraduate schools, or Disciples who have been active in a campus ministry program at a non-Disciples-affiliated undergraduate institution, or (b) outstanding members of the United Church of Christ who are recent graduates from a UCC undergraduate institution or who have been active in a campus ministry program at a non-UCC-affiliated undergraduate institution.

Recommendations for this award must be sent by the president of the undergraduate institution to the president of Phillips Theological Seminary. In the case of a student coming from a campus ministry, a recommendation must be sent by the campus minister or other administrator. This award is for individuals who have distinguished themselves academically, exhibited leadership potential, and have expressed a sincere desire for Christian service. Recommended candidates must go through the regular application process and be admitted to the seminary.

Merit Award

One new 80% or 100% tuition award is available each year to a highly qualified student of any denominational background. To receive this award, the student must have received a GPA of 3.75 or higher at the undergraduate level. In order to retain the award, the recipient must maintain a GPA of 3.75 while at the seminary.

Need-Based Award

One new 100% tuition award may be granted each year to a student in good academic standing who demonstrates exceptional financial need.

Racial Ethnic Minority Scholarships

These 80% tuition scholarships are awarded to students from underrepresented racial ethnic groups who have been admitted to a certificate or master’s degree program. Students may be asked to provide documentation of ethnicity.
Disciples/United Church of Christ Scholarships

These 80% tuition scholarships are available each year to students who are members of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) or the United Church of Christ and who are in good academic standing. An undergraduate grade point average of 3.00 is required to receive this award.

Robert T. and Harriet M. Peake Endowed Scholarship

One 100% tuition scholarship is funded annually. Fees and a book allowance are also paid. The recipient will be selected in conjunction with the Peake Fund Committee of Harvard Avenue Christian Church, Tulsa, Oklahoma. Consideration will be given to the qualities of leadership, devotion to Christ, outreach involvement, and intellect. Good academic standing is required for retention of the scholarship. It is available to full-time students only.

Matthew A. Thompson Fellowship for Student Leaders

At least one 100% fellowship is funded annually. While the amount distributed annually may vary, the fellowship is intended to cover tuition, fees, books and living expenses. The recipient will be selected through an application process which includes the writing of an essay on the theology and praxis of leadership. The application and essay is received and reviewed each spring and the fellowship is awarded the next academic year. Recipient must maintain good academic standing.

Seminary Tuition Assistance after the Introductory Assistance Period

Students who receive the introductory tuition assistance of 50% of the current tuition are eligible to apply for tuition assistance after the introductory period. The maximum one is eligible to receive is 40% of tuition. Tuition assistance is awarded based on financial need and academic performance. Application for the next academic year must be submitted by June 30. (Special Students will not be eligible to apply for the financial-need-based tuition assistance after the introductory tuition assistance period unless they apply and are admitted to a degree or certificate program.)

Financial need is determined by a formula which utilizes the Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) from the FAFSA. The deadline for filing the FAFSA must be observed. Students with financial need, as determined by the formula, will receive the recalculated assistance throughout the remainder of their seminary program.

In all cases, the number of hours of seminary tuition assistance and the number of years for which it is available are subject to seminary policy as stated in the course schedule and in the catalog.

Students who have no financial need as determined by the formula will not receive seminary tuition assistance after the introductory tuition assistance period. If, however, a student's financial situation changes such that her/his current financial circumstances are not accurately reflected on the FAFSA on which the financial need determination was made, or if the student has special circumstances or unusual expenses that might affect the need determination, the student may provide the relevant information to the Director of Student Financial Aid who may then make a professional judgment for in-house purposes to reevaluate the percentage of financial need.

Seminary Tuition Assistance for Readmitted Students

Any student who has attended PTS, dropped out for more than one semester but less than three years, and then been readmitted, will usually receive the award or scholarship or the tuition assistance she or he had been receiving before s/he dropped out. However, a student must apply for a Financial Aid
Leave of Absence in order to “freeze” her or his tuition assistance during her/his time away from PTS. A student who has a break in attendance of more than three years must reapply for admission to PTS as if s/he were a new student. The type and amount of her or his financial aid award will then be reevaluated. The award, scholarship, or tuition assistance the student receives may or may not be the same as when the student previously attended PTS.

Globalization Awards

Phillips Theological Seminary offers a limited number of scholarships each year for international travel experiences (e.g., to Central America, the Middle East, India, Africa), to be funded by the Thompson, Long, Thomure, and Memorial Boulevard Christian Church Endowment. Scholarships will be awarded on a competitive basis. Preference will be given to those with no previous international experience and who have at least one full year remaining in their seminary careers and who communicate their learning to the seminary community. Applicants must submit a 2-3 page essay describing why they wish to participate in such an experience. A faculty committee selects scholarship recipients. Interested students should contact the Office of the Dean.

To support a general globalization opportunity for all students, a percentage of tuition monies is designated for cross-cultural experiences each academic year. Such experiences may be seminary sponsored (e.g., BorderLinks) or individually designed. Programs not sponsored by PTS have the same application requirements as the Thompson, Long, Thomure, and Memorial Boulevard Christian Church Endowment.

Ecumenical Scholarship

Contingent upon fund availability, a portion of the general fees assessed by the student body is used in the support of an ecumenical exchange student. This student is received through the Ecumenical Student Exchange Program of the National Council of the Churches of Christ.

Doctor of Ministry Program

Approximate Total Cost of DMin Program

The tuition rate for all PTS students is $490 per semester hour; all DMin students receive seminary tuition assistance of approximately 34% which decreases their tuition to $325 per semester hour. For students who complete the degree in 4 years (3 semesters per year) the approximate costs would include:

- Tuition for 32 hours (at $325 per hour) ........................................ $10,400
- Student fees for 12 semesters ..................................................... $1,200
- Continuation Fees ................................................................. $500

Financial Aid (DMin Program)

All DMin students will receive seminary tuition assistance of approximately 34% per credit hour throughout their enrollment in the DMin program. Students may apply for student loans by contacting Ann Jordan, the Director of Student Financial Aid.
CONTINUING EDUCATION OPPORTUNITIES

Some denominations now require their ministers to acquire continuing education credit annually. The standard formula for continuing education credit is 10 structured learning hours equals one Continuing Education Unit (CEU). Using this formula, each minister can tabulate the number of CEUs she or he earns each year.

Continuing education opportunities take several forms. The seminary periodically offers dedicated continuing education classes. Pastors may also approach the dean to arrange a continuing education course for a group of pastors, e.g., a preaching practicum, a seminar for pastors of small churches, etc. Clergy may also take most masters' degree classes for CEUs. There are several endowed lectureships and programs which may be taken for CEU credit, including those during Ministers' Week, the Stacey Pastors' Workshop, the summer academic session and, periodically, in the form of the Marshall Scholar Program as well as various special lectureships, including Faith Matters and those co-sponsored by PTS and the Institute of Theological Studies.

The seminary welcomes ministers and other qualified persons to take regular course offerings either as auditors or as special students.

The Marshall Scholar Program

This program provides the opportunity for a minister to be on campus for a period of study and enrichment. Normally such a period will be one to three weeks. However, special arrangements may be made with the dean for a study extension.

Each minister who participates as a Marshall Scholar is assigned to a particular member of the faculty for consultation and direction of his or her study program. Assignment of faculty members is made on the basis of the minister's interest and study objectives. The program consists of reading, attending classes, and a research paper if the minister chooses. The assigned faculty member will help make arrangements for the minister to attend those classes appropriate for his or her interest.

Any minister may apply for acceptance as a Marshall Scholar. The minister's living expenses in Tulsa are her or his own. A certificate is awarded by the seminary for the completion of the program.
COURSES OF INSTRUCTION IN MASTER’S PROGRAMS

The seminary’s master’s level curriculum is organized into six divisions: Biblical Studies; Historical Studies; Theology and Ethics; Christianity and Culture; Practical Theology, and Cross-Disciplinary Studies.

Division I: Biblical Studies

Goals

The Bible is regularly invoked as an authority in various arenas of discourse, ranging from public policy to church doctrine, yet there is often little agreement on what the Bible actually says or means. Therefore it is imperative that those who are engaged in varied Christian ministries be fluent in interpretation of the Bible that is responsive to the historical processes that gave rise to it and to its hermeneutical potential.

To be fluent in biblical interpretation, the student must be able to employ appropriate exegetical models to understand the Bible as emerging out of the historical development of communities, institutions, and texts in ancient Israel and early Christianity. Because the Bible is a product of historical processes, interpretation pays attention to several interpretive concerns such as the following: historical context; literary character; social and cultural environment; theological heritage and development and hermeneutical implications. Fluency in interpretation enables the student to use the Bible with an awareness of scholarly understandings as a resource for thinking about the issues and concerns of everyday life.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION IN THE DOCTOR OF MINISTRY PROGRAM

Foundation Courses (all specializations)

DMIN 807 Pastoral Leadership in Context 3 hrs.
This course invites students to engage and critique leadership concepts and theories drawn from both Christian traditions and a variety of current disciplines and arenas. Students will also be given opportunities to reflect upon leadership issues within the context of their ministerial settings and in conversation with the material studied in class. Lectures, large and small group discussions of readings, and case studies are among the methods that will be used to achieve the outcomes of the course.

DMIN 808 The Biblical Message and the Praxis of God 3 hrs.
This course will explore Biblical paradigms that define a theological approach to the practice of ministry. The Biblical themes chosen for emphasis in the course may vary from year to year based on the interests and preferences of the professor.

DMIN 809 Constructive Theology of Ministry 3 hrs.
The foundational course in Theology, required of all DMin students, is designed to clarify and deepen students' theological perspectives as they begin their studies. The course prepares students for the final project by requiring students to situate the vital tasks, practices, and prayer-life of ministry within an explicit theological framework. Readings, in-class work, and assignments will encourage competence in understanding contemporary theological methods and skill in articulating a vision of the Christian faith for our time and context. Issues receiving special attention will include: the process of contextual description, clarity of one’s own theological method, awareness of denominational perspective, and attention to the ethical implications of theology for the engagement of society and other religious traditions.

Specialization Courses: Pastoral Leadership in Care and Counseling

DMPC 758 Dyad Supervision 0 hrs.
Supervision with two students and one supervisor. No credit hours awarded, but the course is recorded on the student's transcript.

DMPC 760 Models of Clinical/Theological Assessment 2 hrs.
A systematic review and evaluation of models of pastoral, family systems and medical modes of assessment and diagnosis. Students will be asked to utilize the available models in their counseling work. Distinctions between religious, spiritual, theological and pastoral assessment will be made. Students will be asked to develop their own integrative perspective on assessment, attending to the strengths and weaknesses of the major models.

DMPC 761 Solution-Focused Pastoral Counseling 2 hrs.
A study and evaluation of solution-focused therapy, a method of brief therapy that emphasizes strengths rather than weaknesses, solutions rather than problems, the future rather than the past and hope rather than despair. This approach is a natural for pastoral counseling and is applicable to a wide range of issues such as family, marriage, children, eating disorders and alcoholism.
DMPC 762 The Counseling Relationship and Change
2 hrs.
The goal of the course is to help students articulate and practice their own understanding of what happens in counseling relationships that enhances positive change. Change will be considered from a variety of behavioral, theological and personality theory frameworks. Class content will focus on views of human nature and human potential as well as on techniques. Students will select theories that are most congruent with their own understandings of change.

DMPC 763 Cognitive Therapy Approach to Pastoral Counseling
2 hrs.
Cognitive therapy is a short-term, active, structured, problem-oriented, collaborative, and psycho-educational model of therapy that is useful in short-term pastoral counseling. The course will enable students to grasp the conceptual model and techniques of cognitive therapy.

DMPC 764 Liberation Theology and Narrative Therapy
2 hrs.
A critical correlation of contemporary liberation theologies and narrative psychotherapy. The theory and practice of narrative therapy, a recent therapeutic approach informed by critical social theories and social constructionist psychologies, resonate with the concerns of contemporary liberation theologies. The course frames narrative interventions as liberative theological practices; students learn and practice basic narrative interventions, explore and critique the convergences and divergences between narrative therapy and liberation theologies, and identify the theology of culture embedded in the theoretical literature of narrative psychotherapy.

DMPC 766 & 767 Family Systems Theory and Pastoral Counseling I & II
2 hrs. each
The systems framework will be used for pastoral counseling as it relates to individuals, marriage, and family. It will also be used to describe systems processes as they relate and appear in the congregation.

DMPC 769 Pastor as Counselor: Techniques for the Parish
2 hrs.
This course will include theology of pastoral care, self-care, and the use of specific counseling techniques for persons and groups in church settings. Professional ethics will also be presented.

Specialization Courses: Pastoral Leadership in Homiletics

DPLH 720 Core Homiletic I
4 hrs.
Grounded in the preceding foundational courses in Constructive Theology and Biblical Hermeneutics, this course requires students to explicitly develop their aim in preaching and to articulate an operative theology of preaching as congregational leadership. To aid this process of clarification, students will develop a “thick description” of their congregations, will work on transforming the commitments of their constructive theologies and biblical hermeneutics into effective pastoral speech, and cultivate a more complex and richer set of rhetorical skills in their performance of preaching.

DPLH 721 The History of Preaching
4 hrs.
This course will cover a broad spectrum of preachers and preaching (as well as historical sermons) across the span of Western Christianity. Each student-preacher will focus on re-imagining their work and identity as preacher utilizing historical contexts to establish her/his distinctive voice as well as her/his place in preaching's history.
Courses of Instruction in DMin Program

DPLH 722 Core Homiletic II
This course will more fully develop the student’s aim in preaching as well as his/her understanding of preaching as congregational leadership (as constructed in Core Homiletic I). Additionally students will cultivate greater rhetorical and communication skills through the preparation and delivery of several sermons (preached in their congregational settings) as case studies. The case study approach will include a thick description of congregational context, hermeneutical and theological analyses of the biblical texts, an explicit statement of learning goals for each sermon, a choice of a specific homiletic form for the sermon, small-group forums (online) for critical reflection and feedback from peers, and a tape-recorded evaluation of the sermon by a listening response team of congregational members from each student’s setting. Special attention will also be given to the development of a preaching plan for one, five, and ten-year periods, focusing on the vocational development of both preacher and congregation.

Specialization Courses: Pastoral Leadership in Church and Society

DPLC 730 Core Church and Society I
This course introduces students to the study of the churches’ relations to society and culture. While broad theoretical and theological frames will be discussed, the class will focus particularly on issues of race, gender, economic and cultural globalization, and interfaith relations as topics of engagement. The use of multiple PTS faculty and others as guest speakers will be a major feature of this course.

DPLC 731 International/National Immersion Experience
Offered within either a national or international setting, the required immersion experience enables students to reflect more concretely and practically on the issues and themes introduced in Core Church and Society I. Led by a PTS faculty member, this course may be arranged in conjunction with BorderLinks, an ecumenical educational program based on the border between Arizona and Mexico, Week of Compassion, the relief, refugee and development ministry fund of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), or another church-related agency or organization. The summer 2010 immersion trip explored Christian ministries among the poor in Nicaragua organized through JustHope.

DPLC 732 Core Church and Society II
Focused on actual practices of building conversational and practical connections across racial, religious, and religious/social-service agency lines, this course will connect the language and tactics of community organizing to address both the importance and possibilities of churches engaging their social and cultural contexts. Guest community organizers will be invited to participate in the course.

Specialization Courses: Pastoral Leadership in Spiritual Formation

DPLS 740 Foundations for Spiritual Knowing and Acting
A critical examination of Christian epistemology and spiritual theology as a foundation for the historical, contemporary, and emerging practices by which humanity attends to the Spirit through the presence and action of God. The course examines Christian spiritual exercises within the broader frame of spiritual theology and cognate disciplines. Students will develop and commit to a personal “rule of life” that will serve as a norm and guide for their spiritual practice during the Specialization and Project phases of the DMin program.

DPLS 741 Engaged Christian Leadership of Spiritual Practices
A critical examination of the development of Christian spiritual practices out of Jewish and other non-Christian traditions. Students will study a global breadth of Christian and non-Christian spiritual practices, including discernment, and the adaptation of non-Christian spiritual practices for use in Christian ministry. Students will construct a cultural-theological analysis of the spiritual and other communal practices in a context where they offer leadership. Each student will lead a PLSF peer group in contemplative practices appropriate for this ministry context.
DPLS 742 Spiritual Leadership in Christian Ministry Contexts 4 hrs.
A critical examination and development of styles and modes of leadership for communal response to and participation in the praxis of God in the world. Building on the previous classes, students will identify a theme recurring in previous specialization coursework relevant to their DMin projects. In light of the ministry context analysis from "Engaged Christian Leadership of Spiritual Practices," students will create a plan for guiding their ministry community through specific spiritual practices.
