Featuring Dr. Sarah Morice Brubaker presenting
“What is the Good Life? Building Faithful Community
Even When You Disagree About What Matters Most”

What does it mean to live a good life? The answer will depend not only on who you are, but also when and where you were born, what stories formed your view of the world, and what community you belong to. In this presentation, Dr. Sarah Morice-Brubaker introduces different visions of the good life drawn from history, philosophy, and theology; she then facilitates a conversation among participants about the challenges — and opportunities — that arise when members of a faith community disagree on how to live well.

FaithLife Connections is an ongoing lecture/conversation series offering a forum for participants to explore faith values in daily life. Held on a Saturday, beginning at 9:00 a.m., presentations will include a local panel. Together with the speaker, the panel will respond and share perspectives inviting conversations with all attendees. Throughout the day resources will be provided for those interested in teaching or leading study groups. Each program will conclude at 3:00 p.m. The program welcomes ecumenical and multi-faith participants.
